

HAROLD WILSON

Heads Will Meet on Rhodesia Solution Sought To End Rebellion

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson and rebel Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith agreed to meet today in a showdown attempt to end Rhodesia's rebellion.

The confrontation will take place in conditions reminiscent of the secret meetings of statesmen during World War II — probably aboard the British cruiser Tiger off the Mediterranean island of Malta.

Prepares Request

The British government has been preparing to ask the U.N. Security Council to vote mandatory sanctions against Rhodesia if Smith did not give way by this weekend. British officials attributed the retreat they said the Rhodesians had made to the influence of South African Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster's government, whose support has enabled the Rhodesians to circumvent partial sanctions already in force.

Smith left Salisbury before dawn in a Royal Air Force Comet which had taken Sir Morrice James, a special British envoy, to the Rhodesian capital Tuesday night. With Smith and James were Britain's governor in the colony, Sir Humphrey Gibbs. It was Smith's first meeting with the governor since he declared Rhodesia's independence in November 1965 and refused to recognize Gibbs as the representative of the crown.

Free 13 Months

Smith's government, representing Rhodesia's 225,000 white settlers, proclaimed independence from Britain nearly 13 months ago in defiance of persistent British demands for guarantees of eventual transfer of power to the colony's 4 million Africans.

Wilson now is seeking a new Rhodesian constitution which will simultaneously restore legal rule to the country and provide the basis for an eventual African takeover.

During September Wilson headed off the demands of African and Asian members of the Commonwealth for a British military expedition to crush the rebellion. He pledged that if one last attempt at a settlement failed, Britain would ask the U.N. Security Council to impose certain mandatory sanctions on the Rhodesians by Christmas.

Reveal Lunar Thruster Ready

BAY SAINT LOUIS, Miss. (AP)—The mightiest liquid hydrogen booster ever tested by this nation strained against its shackles with a million pounds of thrust today in the first successful captive firing of a flight model.

The S-II-I, troublesome second stage of the Saturn 5 rocket designed to carry American astronauts to the moon, was ignited four months later than was first scheduled.

Test Successful

Space officials termed the six-minute static test an apparent success and said it occurred within the timetable of the "big picture" — to land a man on the moon by 1970.

At 12:13 a.m. a great yellow flame rushed sideward from the booster's base deflected by a huge shield from curling back on the engine.

Generating 21,000,000 horsepower, as powerful as 90,000 automobiles, the engines made the earth tremble for more than a mile.

The sound, a dull and deep roar punctuated by crackling noises, buffeted clothing of viewers 5,000 feet away. It made breathing rougher, made it exhilarating like speeding over a dip in the road. It gave the insides of ears an itching sensation.

It was awesome.

At 12:19 a.m. it ceased. There were some murmurs of excitement.

Bids U.S. Move Faster in Field Of Space Rescue

BOSTON (AP) — A space expert said today that a space catastrophe is inevitable and urged that the United States move faster to develop a rescue system to aid disabled or stranded astronauts.

Several Plans Studied

Dr. Eugene B. Konecni of the National Aeronautics and Space Council reported that the United States is studying several plans. "With very limited resources being applied to the whole manned rescue area as an integrated problem."

In a paper presented at the annual conference of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Konecni said the studies have provided valuable research but "perhaps we should move faster with a definite plan."

He said many believe the need for space rescue is justification for starting on the next generation of spacecraft, whose main job would be to ferry men and supplies between the earth, moon and space stations.

Konecni said these craft, all (Continued on Page 45, Col. 8)

Named Assistant General Manager Of Daily Freeman

The appointment of Richard L. Treat to the post of assistant general manager of The Kingston Daily Freeman was announced today by Ralph Ingersoll, president of the Freeman Publishing Company.

Treat, who has been identified with the newspaper business for 25 years, came to Kingston from Chester, Pa., where he was assistant publisher of the Delaware County Daily Times. He is a native of Milton, Mass.

Started Career in Boston

Following his graduation from Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., in 1941, he began his newspaper career in the advertising department of the Boston, Mass. Post and the next year he entered the armed forces serving in the U. S. Navy as a naval aviator for three years.

After completing his military service in 1945, he rejoined the Boston Post and worked in the capacity as classified advertising manager and retail advertising manager until 1956. He also directed the advertising departments of several Portland, Me., newspapers until 1961 when he joined the Schenectady, New York Union Star as general manager and publisher.

Before becoming assistant publisher at Chester, Pa., he served as general manager of the News Register in Fremont, Calif.

Beth Is Hardly Aware of Battle, Looks to St. Nick

KINGSTON, N.Y. (AP) — For a 4½-year-old blonde named Beth, the world right now is wreathed with visions of a portly red-clad gentleman who wears a white beard.

Hardly aware of the custody battle raging around her, Beth sat Wednesday making paper houses on the living room carpet in the home of her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Luni, of Tillson.

Has the Answers

"Who's coming down the chimney at Christmas?" she was asked.

"Santa Claus," she squealed delightedly.

"And what will he have with him?"

"A bag of toys," she said.

Christmas at 'Home'

Beth's vision of Christmas in the Luni home, where she has lived since she was five days old, had been assured earlier Wednesday by Surrogate Robert Waldron Herzberg, of Columbia County, sitting in Ulster County Supreme Court.

Orders Holiday Truce

"I'm sure everyone agrees that it will be in the child's best interests not to upset her before Christmas," said Judge Herzberg as he ordered a holiday truce in the custody battle over the child's custody.

Beth is the legal ward of Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons, who wants her returned to his custody.

Sept. 22, 1942 — pleasure launch Wa-Wi-Net sank in Georgian Bay, 25 killed.

Nov. 11-13, 1940 — three freighters, the Novadoc, Davock and the Anna C. Minch, sank in Lake Michigan, 57 killed.

1915 — passenger ship Eastland, capsized in Chicago River, 812 drowned.

Nov. 11, 1913 — 19 ships lost in hurricane, including the freighters Charles S. Prince and the Regina, which sank in Lake Huron, 254 killed.

Fitzsimmons Hits Publicity in Case

Charging that "all of the publicity" in the Luni adoption case "has been generated by Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick in an effort to improperly serve his political ambition," Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons on Wednesday issued a statement on the proceedings. The statement was issued through his personal attorney N. LeVan Haver.

The statement came shortly after Columbia County Surrogate Judge Robert W. Herzberg, named by the State Appellate Division, Supreme Court, to hear the matter had named former Columbia County Judge William E. J. Connor of Hudson special guardian for 4½ year old "Beth" whose custody is in dispute.

Judge Herzberg has adjourned the matter until Monday Jan. 9 at 2 p. m.

Previously Declined

Previously, Commissioner Fitzsimmons had declined to make public statements in the case on the grounds the adoption matter was "in the courts" and it would be improper for him to enter into the nationwide public criticisms.

The little girl has been in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Luni of Tillson since she was five days old and known no other home. The Luni family has refused to surrender Beth for adoption by another family and seek to adopt her themselves.

The statement follows: "The Welfare Department of the County of Ulster has been unfavorably criticized on a nationwide basis because of court proceedings relating to the custody of a foster child. All the publicity has been generated by Congressman Resnick in an effort to improperly serve his political ambition. Mr. Resnick with utter disregard for the best interests of the child has deliberately made many inaccurate, false and misleading statements concerning the handling of this case. His disregard for the best interests of the child is best portrayed by an incident which occurred election night.

"The victorious Congressman invited the Lunis to his 'Victory Celebration' at a Catskill mountain resort. At this celebration Congressman Resnick at an hour approaching midnight was holding the child aloft above his head in a very questionable display of his satisfaction at having been able to exploit the child for his own political ends.

Seen as Pawns

"Unfortunately, the Lunis have been pawns in the hands of Congressman Resnick. Mr. Luni has publicly stated on several occasions that he has very sincere doubts that he and his wife can legally adopt the child because of the guides and standards which all welfare departments of New York State are required to use in the selection of adoptive parents.

"Mr. Luni has admitted that, with the help of Mr. Resnick, he hopes to create such public furor that he will be able to accomplish by force of a prejudiced and improperly aroused public opinion what he can not accomplish legally.

"Another example of Mr. Resnick's flagrant disregard for ethics and proper conduct, particularly on the part of public officials, was his demand for the disbarment of the county attorney of Ulster County and his assistant county attorney who represented the Welfare Department in the Family Court hearing.

"There was absolutely no basis for this demand and there has never been any indication that either of these attorneys had not acted in accordance with the highest standards of their profession. It is regrettable that the personal political ambitions of a man such as Congressman Resnick can lead to such widespread

Fear 28 Dead One Survivor

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — Rescue forces fanned out over Lake Huron today in search of survivors of the ill-fated Daniel J. Morrell which sank in a storm with a feared loss of 28 lives.

One crewman survived the Great Lakes' worst disaster in eight years.

14 Bodies Found

Three bodies were recovered today after an all-night search. Eleven bodies were recovered Wednesday.

All were in an area about 20 miles southeast of the Harbor Beach Light.

Gale force winds and heavy snow hampered overnight rescue operations. Enlisted in the search were three Coast Guard helicopters, three cutters and three other vessels.

The search turned up several orange life jackets and water-logged life preservers, all stamped Daniel J. Morrell. Orange-colored oars and other debris also were recovered.

Concealed by Storm

Its fate concealed by the storm for 34 hours, the 603-foot Morrell snapped in two Tuesday morning and sank in 145 feet of water 20 miles northeast of Harbor Beach, a town at the tip of Michigan's Thumb District.

Twenty-nine crewmen were aboard, said John Hanninen, a legal representative of Bethlehem Steel Co. which had leased the 60-year-old ship.

"I saw two life boats launched before the ship sank," said deck watchman Dennis Hale, the survivor. Plucked from a life raft by a helicopter, Hale was clad in undershorts, pajamas and a sea jacket when found lying beneath the bodies of three crewmates who died from exposure.

Snow Hampers Search

An empty life raft bobbed on waves near the coast and a life ring and debris from the Morrell washed up on the snow-covered shore at the northern tip of the Thumb District. The wreckage was found by a 100-man search party that scoured the shoreline during heavy snow.

The blinding snow hampered the search by three Coast Guard cutters over a 400-square-mile area of Lake Huron. The storm grounded Coast Guard aircraft during most of the hunt.

Any crewmen not in life boats would have died within three hours in the 36-degree water, the Coast Guard said.

Heard Hard Thump

Hale, 26, of Ashtabula, Ohio, was sleeping when he "heard a hard thump."

"I thought the anchor was dropping," he said. Books tumbled off a shelf in his room and he jumped out of bed.

"I heard the emergency alarm. The ship was breaking in half," Hale said. He launched the raft with three other crewmen.

"As we were floating out on this raft I could see the two halves (of the ship) hitting each other," he said. "They had separated and the back part still (Continued on Page 45, Col. 1)

2,505 Quit Cong, New Monthly High

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. officials today reported a new peak in defections from the ranks of the Viet Cong. They said 2,505 returnees came over to the allied side in November for the highest monthly total since the chieu hoi—open arms—program was launched nearly four years ago. The previous high was 2,082 last February.

U.S., Enemy Toll Up

At the same time, the U.S. Command reported a rise in American and enemy war casualties last week, while Vietnamese headquarters reported a drop in casualties among government forces.

In other developments, high-flying B52 bombers pounded Viet Cong positions only 27 miles from Saigon. On the ground, fighting died down after a one-day spurt.

U.S. headquarters disclosed two new ground operations were under way involving American infantrymen.

The U.S. air offensive over North Viet Nam continued at a low pace as it has for the last three weeks because of rain storms and generally foul weather.

The U.S. Command reported American troop strength in Viet Nam reached 361,000 by last Saturday, an increase of 1,000 men over the previous week.

The record number of Viet Cong defections reported for November also exceeded a five-week high of 2,336 in March, U.S. officials said.

Accuracy Questioned

Despite the claim of record defections, there always has been some question of the accuracy and significance of the statistics. Some observers contend that some returnees are actually refugees from war-ravaged areas or impoverished peasants, from Viet Cong-controlled sections, seeking government food and care.

U.S. officials said that since the chieu hoi program was started in early 1963, more than 45,000 former Viet Cong have turned themselves in to the Saigon government's care. So far this year, they say, there have been 17,726 returnees, an increase of 6,602 over all of last year and the highest yearly total to date.

143 Yanks Killed

In its weekly casualty report, U.S. headquarters said 143 Americans were killed and 709 wounded last week, compared with 100 killed and 749 wounded the week before. This brought the number of Americans killed in combat in Viet Nam to 6,192 by unofficial count and the number of wounded to 24,812.

Vietnamese military headquarters said the government lost 159 men killed and 41 missing last week, compared with 150 killed and 45 missing the week before.

Progress Group Will Meet Politicos, Planners on 7th

Lelan F. Sillin Jr., chairman of Mid Hudson Pattern for Progress Inc., has announced a new series of informal meetings aimed at establishing a firm base for communication between the organization and leaders of various interest groups in the seven-county region.

The first such meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, December 7, will offer PFP's 15-member executive committee an opportunity to meet with ranking members of the boards of supervisors in the respective counties: The chairman, majority and minority leaders, and also their planning administrators.

In his letter of invitation, Sillin explained: "The purpose of this meeting is to provide an opportunity for an informal exchange of views . . . on the subject of the future planning and development of the Mid Hudson region.

"As you know, PFP is a non-profit, non-partisan organization, formed for the purpose of encouraging effective regional planning for growth in an environment of quality.

"A number of people have expressed a considerable interest in learning about our organization and we would like to take this opportunity to respond. Also, inasmuch as we are now at the point of acquiring a staff and developing a work program, we feel that it would be most timely and helpful if we could have your advice and counsel at this juncture concerning the area's problems . . . and the kinds of activities which you would like to see Pattern emphasize."

Sillin also stressed that PFP's success will depend largely on formulating a program that will respond to the needs and requirements of governmental units in the region, and "also the ability of these governments to discharge their basic responsibility

U THANT

Appeal Is Drafted on U.N. Post

Many Feel Thant Will Stay on Job

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council planned to ask U Thant of Burma today to take another term as secretary-general.

Many of its members expected he would agree to stay on for another five years.

An appeal that he continue in office was being prepared at successive informal meetings of a five-man drafting committee and the 15 members of the council.

Could Elect Friday

Some council members expressed belief that they could send the communication to Thant this afternoon. They were hopeful he would accept immediately. They said if he did, the council would recommend him for another term Friday morning and the General Assembly would elect him Friday afternoon.

Thant announced Sept. 1 that he had decided not to offer himself for a second term. But before his first five-year term ran out Nov. 3, he agreed to extend his service to the end of the assembly session, scheduled Dec. 20.

Many foreign ministers speaking in the assembly's general debate urged him to serve another term. The Security Council did likewise Sept. 29.

The council members met informally Tuesday and sent a delegation to ask Thant to postpone the announcement of his final decision, originally set for Wednesday. He postponed it to Friday at the latest.

Hope to Encourage Stay

Usually well informed sources said that to encourage Thant to stay, the Soviet Union, France, the United States and East European countries were talking about making simultaneous voluntary contributions toward the removal of the U.N. peace-keeping deficit, estimated at between $30 million and $50 million.

Lawyers Answer Haver's Charges In Custody Case

Gabe Pressman, a former Woodstocker and now a well-known television news commentator, came home to Ulster County Wednesday to tell the world about the adoption problems revolving around Beth St. John and her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Luni, Wednesday, too. Beth went "home" for Christmas by court order.

Solons Motives Scored

The door had barely closed behind her when the entire affair became everyone's business again. Kingston attorney N. LeVan Haver, retained privately by Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons, opened his case by publicly attacking the political motives of Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick in the case. Over a local radio station, he was quoted as saying that Resnick's attacks on county officials had been "vicious and irresponsible" and that his interference in the case had been carefully planned to further his reelection and political career.

Both Kingston's Common Council and the Ulster County Board of Supervisors are due to act on reapportionment this month, it was noted today.

The Common Council, however, is not expected to take any action at its regular meeting next Tuesday, but it was indicated today that the Board of Supervisors could consider action at its regular meeting next Thursday.

Committees of both legislative bodies have been working in recent months on reapportionment which must be completed by Dec. 31. Neither committee has indicated anything, to date, as to extent of changes in voting districts.

A ruling last June by Supreme Court Justice T. Paul Kane held that the council and board must comply with the "one person—one vote" principle by the last day of this year or the court will assume responsibility for reapportioning for these bodies.

Earlier this year actions were started by Harry M. Thayer, manager of Radio Station WGHQ and Robert E. Davis, of 188 Pearl Street seeking action by both legislative bodies.

In Kingston action is due to be taken at a special meeting, which Alderman-at-Large Francis R. Koenig said could be called for about mid-December.

The council committee on reapportionment is headed by Alderman Edward Norton (D) Seventh Ward and the supervisors' committee by Peter Savago (R) New Paltz.

Both committees have had several meetings and the required "count of heads" to determine eligible voting population was reported completed in the city.

The city now has 13 wards with 20 voting districts and the county 20 townships with 108 districts.

PETITIONS FOR BETH — Headquarters for the Fund Committee to Save Beth at 585 Broadway at Cedar Street, open only a few days, has already secured nearly 3,000 signatures on a petition to County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons. The petition asks him to permit adoption of four-year-old Beth St. John by her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Luni of Tillson. Mrs. Grace McEvoy (left) of Tillson, a neighbor of the Lunis and a committee organizer, said today hundreds of letters, many with money, have been received. She said the fund has soared to about $500 to help the family with legal costs. Also looking at the petitions are Sol Dole of Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick's staff, and Mrs. Bernard Carle of Kingston, committee chairman. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr).

Dies in Fire

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) —Three-year-old Peter Sinclair perished Tuesday in a fire, a day after
duty, reportedly in Viet Nam.

Peter's mother, formerly of Amsterdam, N.Y., and a brother, Clark, 7, were hospitalized with injuries suffered in the fire, which swept their home in the Ravensworth Park development in Fairfax County. A pet dog died.

Firemen found Peter's body after a neighbor had tried to reach him.

Administration will provide additional financing for the $502-500 project.

JDA loans in Upstate New York total $702,500. It was estimated that these six loans will help create 241 jobs and save 33 others that might have been lost.
Total land and building costs involved in the six loans are esti-

Create 393 New Jobs

All 11 loans are expected to help create 393 new jobs and save 113 others throughout the state. The number of jobs created or saved is based on estimates by the firms of the number of people they expect to employ after one year of operation in their new facilities.

The New York Job Development Authority grants long-term, second mortgage loans to local nonprofit industrial development corporations to assist in construction of new plants and expansion and rehabilitation of existing facilities in amounts up to 30 per cent of the cost of land

Young Folks Help Historic City to Fight Way Back

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) —
Young people from all over Italy and from foreign lands are helping this historic city of books and art re-emerge as it once was.

The rush of volunteers in their teens and early 20s has impressed Italy almost more than any other single aspect of the flood disaster and its aftermath.
Italians work side by side with students from Germany, England, the United States and many other lands.

They are mainly occupied at the museums and libraries, moving the millions of books and archives that remain in mud-matted masses awaiting movement to drying sheds outside the city.

The stench of water-soaked paper and glue bindings is sickening. The youngsters sing as they lift, carry, and pass the precious cargoes into trucks.

The adult world may see their work as an example of sacrifice. But the young don't see it that way at all. For them it is obviously fun — the fun of working in a multilingual group their own age, of putting up with discomforts and hardships that challenge their bodies and spirits and buildings. State Commerce when the floods hit Nov. 4.

"We stayed for a while after the flood but our parents got so leave. Joanne and I went to Rome to fly home but decided no, we missed Florence so much we had to come back and help.

So here we are again. We haven't told our parents yet but we will and it will be all right."

Mortgage Investments Increase Is Noted

The New York State savings banks increased their mortgage investments by a net of $186,026,000 in October, according to the Savings Banks Association of New York State. The increase brought the total holdings of such mortgages to $28,515,824,600 representing 81.04 per cent of total gross assets. During the year ending October 31, 1966, savings banks have invested $1,700,593,000 in permanent real estate mortgages.

$7,965,000 this October. "Cash and due from banks" was reduced by $24,605,000; investment in U.S. Government securities declined by $936,000 and the "all other assets" category was reduced by $3,439,000.

Get Pay Increase

LONDON (AP) — A pay increase was negotiated Wednesday for 400,000 British farm workers, the first for a major union since the government declared an austerity freeze in July.

The raise of 84 cents a week is the lowest won by the farm union since 1962 and was 60 per cent of what it sought. Basic pay is $30 for a 44-hour week.

L-A Scared Anew
Cuba Guerrillas

Fidel Castro's Cuban Communists have just thrown a new scare into Latin-American governments, says a report from Chile, by announcing the establishment in Havana of a new university for guerrillas. Graduates, the report says, will be shipped around the continent and to Asia and Africa to foment "people's wars."

The project, however, has a look of desperation as far as Latin America is concerned. Communism and guerrilla warfare in general have been faring poorly there. Confusion generated by the world Communist split and increasing confidence of governments in dealing with the threat have contributed to the sagging fortunes of violence-minded revolutionaries in the Western Hemisphere.

For some time, there had been a letup in Castro's program of shipping trained guerrillas to other countries, probably because of Cuba's own vexing internal problems. Now there are reports that new batches of guerrillas are ready, some reportedly trained by instructors who have returned from North Viet Nam.

For the most part, there appears today to be a feeling in Latin America that the threat has subsided considerably.

Directly after Castro came to power in Cuba, guerrilla war was something new for Latin-American military and police to come with. Since then they have learned much. The job of containing guerrillas is not so difficult as in the jungles of the Orient. Guerrillas in the Western Hemisphere often have to rely on urban violence and that, with a steady rise in city living standards, has tended to ease off in recent years.

Negroes Move OutFind Good Life Away From Watts

PERRIS, Calif. (AP) — More than 1,000 Negro families who left crowded Los Angeles communities seeking a quieter life and a better environment for their children evidently have found both in Riverside County's Perris Valley.

Negroes have been buying 2½ and 5-acre lots in the Perris Valley, 75 miles southeast of Los Angeles, since 1925, but the greatest influx has taken place over the past several years, particularly after the Watts riots in August 1965.

"We decided to get out of LA because kids where we lived were running dope," said Robert Markham, who moved his family into a home west of Perris.

Markham and his wife, Mary, have a son in the Army, a daughter, 18, at San Bernardino Valley College, and a daughter, 16, at Perris High.

Six years ago the Community Association of Perris, Inc., was formed to bring about improvements. Before the group was formed, water was hauled in by trucks. There were no telephones and roads were unimproved.

The area now has telephones, black-top roads, tap water, a park and a community building.

Negro families in the 203-square mile valley, which includes Glen Valley, Upton Acres, Woodcrest and Good Hope, come from a broad economic spectrum.

Home prices average from $12,000 to $15,000, but included are clapboard houses and $60,000 domiciles. Land prices have increased.

About a third of the Negro residents are retirees on fixed incomes, but there are many middle-class Negroes and a number of families on welfare. Many commute to Los Angeles, and many work in the Riverside and San Bernardino areas.

The $150,000 Perris Valley Medical Center opened two years ago and is staffed by two physicians, an optometrist and a pharmacist — all Negroes. Eighty per cent of the patients are white.

Area Pupils Aid
Scholarship Fund

Seven students of the Kerhonkson Elementary School, representing grades kindergarten through 6, presented a check for $117 to the Rondout Valley Scholarship Fund, Inc. on Monday. The money, which was collected on Halloween by the Kerhonkson school children, was accepted with appreciation by Mrs. George F. Bushnell, the fund's vice chairman.

Since its inception, the fund has awarded one or two $500 scholarships yearly to graduates of the Rondout Valley Central High School. All area organizations are contracted for contributions periodically, either personally or by mail. Chairman of the fund's board of directors is A. J. Anderson of Kerhonkson. In addition to Anderson and Mrs. Bushnell, the following serve on the board: Mrs. James Dunbar, secretary; Clarence Hansen, treasurer; Robert Dayenport, Irving Feinberg, General Sherman Hasbrouck, Franklin Kelder, Dr. Solomon Shapiro and John Wilkie.

All scholarship applicants, who must apply by letter, are required to be in the top fifth of their class scholastically, to have achieved a minimum score of 500 verbal and 500 mathematical on the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test, and to have applied to a college offering a four-year degree program. The fund's board of directors considers also teaching ratings as to citizenship, leadership and college potential and requires all finalists to have a personal interview with the screening committee.

Can't Use Statements

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A woman, accused of throwing her infant son against his crib, is free of a manslaughter charge because a judge ruled that her statements to police were made involuntarily and could not be used at her trial.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Sheldon M. Markel asked Wednesday for dismissal of the first-degree manslaughter indictment against Mrs. Alberta L. Golwitzer, 25, of Buffalo.

Markel said that without her statements the prosecution could not prove the charge.

Justice Gilbert H. King of State Supreme Court, who issued the ruling, then confined Mrs. Golwitzer to Meyer Memorial Hospital for a mental examination.

Her son, Brian, died last Feb. 3 of massive hemorrhaging induced by skull fractures, authorities said. Police said Mrs. Golwitzer told them she threw the 8-week-old boy against the crib when she lost her patience. Mrs. Golwitzer's address is 561 West Ave.

WHEN BROOKE IS SEATED

When newly elected senators are sworn in next January 10, a particularly intense spotlight will be shining on Edward Brooke of Massachusetts. The reason for this is simple: Brooke is a Negro, the first to be chosen for the United States Senate in 85 years. Nor will it detract from the interest in this man that he will be escorted down the aisle by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of a president.

It was quite otherwise in 1870 when the first of the only two other Negroes ever to sit in the Senate arrived in Washington. Rhodes Revels, chosen for the Senate by a Mississippi state legislature in the highly special circumstances following the Civil War, was not welcomed to Washington. His credentials were challenged in the Senate, and he was not allowed to take his seat until 27 days after his arrival.

Before Revels was seated there was a debate which quickly degenerated into a racist attack. One of his most ardent opponents was Sen. Garrett Davis of Kentucky, who in the course of his remarks even deplored the fact that "a few years ago Congress enacted the farce of making citizens of all the Negroes of the United States."

The situation was only a little better five years later when another Mississippi Republican, Blanche Kelso Bruce, arrived to take his place in the Senate. Though his credentials were not challenged on grounds of race, his fellow senator from Mississippi denied him the traditional courtesy of escorting him to the rostrum.

There is every reason to expect that Brooke, the third Negro ever to win a seat in the United States Senate, will be given a cordial and even a particularly warm reception. No question will be raised as to his credentials, certainly none as to his race. Though America's racial situation still needs much improvement, this will be a measure of how much things have changed for the better in our time.

ANCIENT BONES SPEAK

There is endless fascination in the means scientists have devised for learning about the very remote past. Knowledge that once seemed hopelessly out of reach, hidden by thousands or even millions of intervening years, is now being dredged up by techniques scarcely dreamed of only a short time ago.

The Carbon 14 dating method, whereby distant events can be pinpointed with considerable accuracy, is a case in point. Another is a system, now being perfected by a University of Arizona researcher, for determining the body temperature of ancient animals with no more to go on than their fossilized remains.

It seems that a protein material called collagen is found in the bone and connective tissue of animals. One of the constituents of collagen is an amino acid, hydroxyproline. Tong-yun Ho, working in the University of Arizona Physics Department, has found that the normal body temperature of an animal is directly related to the amount of this amino acid found in its body. Applying this to collagen samples from animal remains in California's La Brea tar pits, he has learned that their body temperatures were almost identical with those of their counterparts in our time.

This might seem like rather an esoteric, even useless, bit of knowledge. Yet, quite aside from the point that science rightly seeks knowledge for its own sake, Ho's findings cast important new light on an old problem. The theory that certain prehistoric animals became extinct because they could not adjust to rising temperatures is weakened by the collagen body temperature tests. The amino acid in ancient bones is revealing new truth about a time long before modern man walked the earth.

THE CARS THAT KILL

The record Thanksgiving weekend highway death toll is new grist for the mill of those who keep reiterating that people, not cars, are responsible for road accidents. The hundreds of lives sacrificed on America's many-wheeled altar, so many more than in an ordinary four-day period, do sup-

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
SETS A BALL ROLLING

The first order of business for the revived Republicans is to put a muzzle on people like Senator Jack Javits of New York who talk of their party future in terms of a hard-and-fast "left-right" split. The fact is that none of the more visible Presidential personalities in the Republican Party fit easily into the cliché spectrum that has governed political discourse in this country since New Deal days. Is Governor Romney of Michigan a "liberal" or a "conservative"? His championship of "consumerism," based on his experience in the automobile business is straight out of the era of the first Henry Ford, who believed in pushing high volume at lower prices. Is the newly elected Senator Percy of Illinois a "moderate" or a "reactionary"? He is, of course, the former—but the word means little or nothing if it is used to set him apart from Ronald Reagan of California. For both Percy and Reagan are looking for new ways to lure private industries and foundations into the business of turning welfare activity into voluntary channels. As for Richard Nixon, his appeal is that he doesn't conform to left-right stereotypes any more than the newer candidates who have emerged in recent months.

One key to the Republican future can be found, oddly, in the words of the Democratic Secretary of Commerce, John T. Connor, who, in a speech prepared for delivery last night at American University in Washington, D.C., took exception to the type of conventional "public sector" thinking represented by Professor John Galbraith of Harvard. Connor wasn't out to help clarify a specifically Republican problem; he was merely doing some straight thinking for the inauguration of the "American University Lectures in Business and Government Relations," which have been set in motion by a grant from New York Publicist John Hill. Connor's seminal distinctions could be picked up by any political party, but the fact is that the Galbraith approach has saturated Democratic Party thinking on such things as low-rent housing, transportation and other businesses that have a distinctively "public interest."

In speaking of "public problem solving," Secretary Connor said "you will note that I did not say 'public sector problems.'" "What I want to suggest to you," he continued, "is that answers to the kinds of public requirements that face our nation may well defy the straightjacket implicit in this term." Though Secretary Connor did not mention Professor Galbraith, the personal reference was obvious. It is Galbraith who has neatly set apart the "public" from the "private" sector and so dominated all recent official thought on what Connor calls "public problem solving."

In his American University speech Connor went on to praise the "entry of some of America's major business organizations into the area of housing rehabilitation, in a manner alike ambitious and experimental." He could have been referring to slum rehabilitation in New York City's Harlem by private industries whose legitimately selfish interest is in making a mass market for their own building materials and construction techniques. Or he could have been referring to the voluntary non-profit corporation set up in Los Angeles which has worked with government employment agencies to find 12,000 jobs for people in the so-called "Watts curfew" area. This has cut the Watts unemployment problem almost in half. With proper training programs, another challenge for Secretary Connor's "public problem solving" as distinct from "public sector problems"—the remaining 13,500 unemployed in the Watts area could be placed in waiting jobs in booming California industry.

Secretary Connor's emphasis on good "public problem solving," as distinct from strictly "public sector" thinking in housing, should campaign with a plan for public financing guarantee of private non-profit corporations that would be willing to rebuild Chicago slums for sale over a long term to their inhabitants. Percy's idea is to increase responsible home ownership and thus get rid of dreary "public housing" that creates new slums.

The fact that Republicans are already running with the ball toward Secretary Connor's goal does not preclude Democratic imitation. Indeed, a little cross-party theft here would be more than welcome. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has suggested a variant of the Percy scheme. It is the genius of American politics that both parties are open to infiltration by good ideas no matter what their original sponsorship. (Copyright, 1966, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The DOCTOR SAYS

Frostbite, a Sneaky Foe,
Avoidable with Care

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Frostbite, the formation of ice crystals in and between your body cells, has been called a silent enemy because it often occurs when you no longer feel the cold. Sometimes a person who works in the snow has trouble knowing his feet warm because he forgets that the temperature of the snow may be 15 or 20 degrees lower than the temperature around his head. Furthermore, a 45-mile wind at 20 degrees may be more chilling than a 2-mile breeze at -40. At high altitudes, less oxygen is available. This, too, increases the danger of frostbite. Other factors that contribute to freezing are fatigue, panic, or injury with its associated shock.

Most cases of frostbite can be prevented. If you are working at temperatures that are below freezing, you should avoid overexertion but, if your work makes you sweat, take off an outer garment. Don't touch cold metal with your bare skin because metal, being a good conductor, gives up its heat rapidly and will freeze to your skin.

Don't smoke because this will constrict the small blood vessels in your skin and deprive it of needed circulation. On the other hand don't drink alcohol because this dilates these blood vessels and increases the rate of heat loss from your skin. Although this is a seeming contradiction, your body's heat-regulating mechanism works best for your protection when it is not hampered by extraneous chemical influences. Shivering and goose pimples are also part of nature's way of warding off cold injuries.

Your winter clothing should not fit too tightly. Several layers of lightweight clothing will give you more protection than a single heavy layer and an outer layer that is windproof is essential.

If, in spite of all precautions, you do suffer a frostbite you should rewarm the frozen part as rapidly as possible by immersion in water 104 to 107 degrees. Avoid using a heating pad or rubbing the injured part. Take a hot nonalcoholic drink.

If, after thawing, blisters form do not open them. The intact skin is a protection against infection. If, however, the blister breaks, remove all loose skin so that it won't act as a shield for any infection that may have been introduced.

port the claim that human folly is what principally leads to auto smashups.

The truism about the "nut behind the wheel" being the most dangerous part of a car does not lessen the importance of more built-in safety in cars, however. It is, rather, an argument in support of the urgent need for better automotive design and construction. In the main, safer cars are not safer because they keep accidents from beginning, but because they lessen the carnage when accidents do happen. That is true even on those deadly long holiday weekends.

The country's hospitals need 20 per cent more professional and technical workers, according to a survey. We have Medicare but seem to need miracles.

"Haven't You Had Enough?"

Washington News

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Very much up in the air at the White House right now is the kind of civil rights package President Johnson may choose to unveil to Congress in his 1967 State of the Union message.

On the heels of the Senate's September action of burying his 1966 package, with its controversial open housing feature, the President said flatly he would have another go at it this January.

Assuming he honors the pledge, the early judgment here is that neither a carbon copy of the 1966 program nor any other major civil rights legislation is likely to get anywhere in 1967.

The incoming 90th Congress is being read, naturally enough, as inevitably more conservative than the 89th. The Republicans' pickup of 47 seats includes six new ones in the Old South, for an all-time modern high of 23. Some replaced more liberal Democrats.

Yet, even though Negro leaders themselves expect nothing from the 90th, there are signs that the President is not prepared to give up so easily. The arithmetic of the Congress is not quite as bad as it sounds. The milestone 1964 civil rights bill was passed by the 88th Congress, which then had 178 Republicans in the House and 33 (later 34) in the Senate. Set against those figures, the 90th's "swing to conservatism" does not look so striking. Totals now are only a bit higher.

Furthermore, some of the incoming Republicans drew surprising numbers of Negro votes. In the party's advertised search for a more winning image with the 1968 presidential test in mind, more than a few of these particular victors might vote more liberally on civil rights proposals than might otherwise be expected.

The President may decide to bet that they and numerous others ers in both parties will do just that.

White House sources say he had plenty of advice earlier this year against including an open housing provision in the 1966 bill. Its passage by the House, even though in sharply modified form, surprised the "realists" who told him it would get nowhere.

Johnson's commitment to try again, despite the worsened odds, seems a very strong one.

He could perhaps easily dismiss civil rights in 1967 with a window-dressing statement in the State of the Union message and a token fight on the Hill. Or, at the least, he could dump the controversial open housing feature and try for the other 1966 elements—an end to racial discrimination on southern juries, protection against terrorism for Negro civil rights workers, etc.

But the guess has to be that he will not content himself with mere wheel-spinning.

It has long been fashionable in liberal quarters to down-grade the President on civil rights, on the score that he came very late to active advocacy of major measures.

The obvious surface fact is that all the big proposals were enacted when he was either President or majority leader of the Senate.

The deeper side of it, hinted at by sources which have no reason whatsoever to give the President points he does not deserve, is that he has been laboring to advance the Negro cause in many ways still unreported. His placing of Negroes in some federal appointments on occasion required hard, though quiet, battling.

Given his evident commitment, the wager must be that Johnson will work hard in 1967 for the whole thing—open housing, in stronger form than the House-approved bill exempting 60 per cent of existing housing, new legal safeguards for Negroes, possibly even another effort at home rule for the District of Columbia (55 per cent Negro).

Valor in defeat might then be his strongest prospect. If he won, unexpectedly, he might have to hand more credit to new Republicans than to old Democrats.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I think the phases Kingston, Rondout, Ulster County, school system is going through in 1966 will be interesting to follow, as it unfurls, day by day. All this is of course, very expensive, and should bring about some remarkable results. Will Johnny learn to read? Will folks be satisfied with their new housing. Will new neighborhoods form? When will the first shovel of dirt be dug for the new housing going into action, that should bring about a celebration. Are tiny children now walking from the seventh ward to the sixth ward, across Broadway to one of our new schools, for a half a day school, if I understand, kindergarten, which they say is compulsory before one can enter the first grade.

School, culture, new sciences and arithmetic, and staff with various new titles, all expensive and confusing. Remembering school in our day. We respected and were somewhat afraid of our teachers and principal. The law meant the patrolman on the beat. He was usually heavy armed and swung a club, and had a mustache.

I wonder how many former Rondout folks remember Meadow Street hill, in the winter after a snowfall. It was wonderful sleigh-riding, but also dangerous. We started from Broadway, those were the day of trolley-cars. There was one policeman who knew of the dangers, and when he appeared, we all disappeared. It is said, the 8 o'clock curfew still rings, which we knew well, and off the street to home we went. Any adult could say to any child, "go home" and home he went, without any back talk. We had a safe, sanitary and warm heater, America. Storekeepers knew their neighborhood and families, and if anyone went too far away they were asked "What are you doing here?"

I went to the school which was just taken down, School No. 3. They had a good heating system in my time, not the safe and sanitary blowing words to memorize and the pages of geography to read. History was a case of dates and battles. They did not spend much time on personalities in history. We also had reading, but they took it for granted that we learned to read, otherwise how could we do our lessons. We had to answer in sentences, not a grunt. I do not remember the word "culture" or even "education" used. In assembly we sang songs, some of which

'Experts' Predict Big Budget Jump

Less Than $140 Billion Could Even Make LBJ Look Thrifty

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—That was a shocker, that hint of a $140 billion federal budget for next year, a jump of $27 billion over the almost $113 billion budget President Johnson asked for this year.

If you were fiddling with the budget, as Johnson is, you'd need more than just an adding machine. You'd need a good public relations staff too.

Johnson, always aware of what public relations men call a good image, has been a pretty good public relations staff himself, at least on budgets and spending. He's still working at it.

Biggest Single Problem

One of his first tasks when Congress returns in January is to submit his budget, that fantastic itemized list of how much he thinks the government must spend in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1967.

Down in Texas, where he is working while recovering from his recent operations, his biggest single problem between now and January will be getting the budget ready.

But he never forgets the image he wants to create—that of a thrifty president, running around chopping at dollar signs—as he has demonstrated in the past and is doing again.

For days the news from Texas has been telling how Johnson has been wrestling with government spending.

Only Tuesday he told newsmen that federal programs totaling $5.3 billion were being canceled or delayed in the current fiscal year ending June 30, for which his budget had been about $113 billion.

He said a whole bunch of advisers had recommended cuts, and that congressional leaders of both parties are all for cutting, which may have been inspired to take some heat off him.

While a president gets massacred by critics if he calls for big spending, he also hears endless cries of pain from that part of the citizenry which is affected by cuts in spending.

Attributed to 'Experts'

Wednesday night out of Texas came a story quoting unnamed

"experts" as predicting that maybe next year's budget will soar from this year's $113 billion to an American record budget of $140 billion.

Of course, this wasn't Johnson saying it. This was some "experts." You can imagine how thrifty he will look if, when he comes up with his budget, it turns out to be less than that $140 billion the "experts" talked about.

Expenses, of course, are going up; the country and the government keep getting bigger, and there's the Vietnamese war to pay for. But just boosting the budget isn't the only thing Johnson has to think about.

For months he's been juggling the idea that maybe an income tax increase is needed. The aim would be to fight inflation by leaving the people with less money to spend. And the government will need money to finance a budget of $140 billion.

It's just possible that, after hearing $140 billion may be the necessary budget and finding that Johnson wiggled and wangled to get it down to perhaps only $135 billion, taxpayers may grunt and groan a little less about tax increases.

But it has been a long time since the country took such a big budget jump as is suddenly being talked about now. The last time was back in the days of President Harry S. Truman and the Korean War.

Early in 1950, just six months before that war began, his budget was only $42.5 billion. The next year it shot up to $71.5 billion, the next to $85.5 billion, a boost of $43 million. Then it tapered off.

Even so, Johnson would look like more of an economist than Truman with a $27 billion boost.

Quick Quiz

Q—What is the distinction between a thoroughbred horse and a purebred horse?

A—A purebred horse may be of any breed, as long as its parents also belonged to that breed. A thoroughbred is a specific breed of horse.

Q—Is the zebra a light-colored animal with dark stripes, or a dark-colored animal with light stripes?

A—The color pattern of the zebra consists of dark or black stripes on a light background. The animal, therefore, is white—or nearly white—with black stripes.

Q—What term denotes a morbid fear of crossing or being in an open space?

A—Agoraphobia.

NEW YORK (AP)—For many months, President Johnson took no fiscal action to correct economic imbalance despite urgings from many quarters.

Still Criticism

Now that he is acting, some of the same people who criticized him then are criticizing him now.

In the past couple of months, the inflationary fires have cooled some. Certain econ-mists who favored tax increases aren't so sure anymore. And the political face of the nation has changed.

Johnson's first move was to suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit that some economists said was making it too easy for business to continue spending. Such spending, they said, was inflationary.

This week, Johnson announced plans to cancel or delay $5.3 billion in federal programs for the present fiscal year, the purpose being to relieve inflationary pressure placed on the economy by heavy federal spending.

Johnson also moved in another direction. Because high interest rates and a money shortage were depressing the housing market, the President freed $250 million in funds to help finance mortgages of 15,000 new homes.

Johnson says now he will decide by the end of the year whether to ask for an income tax increase.

Talk of Yearend Rally

Rallies and demonstrations being in vogue this year, Wall Street is talking now about having one of its own — a yearend rally. It may or may not come, for the market is not a faithful friend. However, stock prices usually rise in December.

Expectations of the yearend rally begin invariably soon after the optimists give up waiting for the late summer rally. It is a yearly event that ties in curiously with childhood expectations of gifts at Christmas.

There is to it, however, a sad aspect. Many of the bargains are nothing but somebody else's losses. Yearend selling is often for tax purposes — to establish losses that can be written off tax payments.

Forced to sell because their stocks have taken big losses during the year, the losers can depress prices even more. At this point the smart trader steps in to snap up bargains.

Several months ago one of the nation's largest builders forecast a drop in housing starts to an annual rate of 800,000 by early 1967. Since housing already was depressed at more than a million starts, the figure was difficult to believe. In October, however, the rate dropped to 848,000 — a 20-year low.

FLAGS FROM HOME flew over the Tan Son Nhut air base in Viet Nam for one day, as a project of school children at San Bernardino, Calif. Four schools in the area sent their flags with the request that they be flown in Viet Nam, as a gesture of the schools' pride in American military men there.

A statement issued by University President Samuel Gould said the councils met at the request of the University trustees. The conferees agreed to confer further on the subject at local and joint gatherings.

The possibility of closer curricular ties between the schools was raised after the University of Buffalo merged with the State University system in 1962.

Assessors to Meet This Saturday at Hotel

The Ulster County Assessors Association will meet for its regular December meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Saturday, Dec. 3, in an all-day session from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. This will be the first day meeting that has been scheduled since the organization of the Association.

This change in the regularly scheduled meetings has been made for the benefit of the Assessors who do not care to drive at night during the winter months and those who have long distances to travel. It will afford more time for business and a social interval. The speaking and discussion program will run from 10 a. m. until 12 noon.

One of the speakers will be Dewey Logan of Kingston who will talk on his experience as appraiser assessor and real estate broker. It also is expected that another speaker will be present and will talk on the new "Over 65-50 Per Cent Tax Exemption" as passed in June of 1966 and will become effective in 1967. Detailed information on local procedure, proper means of listing on the Assessment Roll by symbol for instituting the Machine Tabulating Report will be available.

Farriery

Farriery is the art of shoeing horses and farrier is another name for blacksmith. Since farriers learned to treat wounds and diseases of horses, farriery came to include the veterinary art, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Ways and means of obtaining better and more detailed real estate transfer information will be discussed if time permits.

A Dutch Treat luncheon will be served at the hotel during the recess from 12 noon until 1 p. m. After luncheon the regular business session of the month will be conducted from 1 p. m. until adjourned. All Supervisors,

Town Board Members and any other interested persons are given a cordial invitation to attend. Since this day program is new, the change in time and place is an experiment to determine whether or not town and assessor attendance can be increased so that the educational and business sessions can be enlarged and enjoyed.

Slate Public Hearing in N.Y. Tuesday To Air Recommended Election Changes

Recommendations for changes in the Election Law as well as in the administrative machinery utilized in Primary and General Elections will be discussed at a public hearing called by Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz in Room 637, at 80 Centre Street, New York City, on Dec. 6, at 10 a.m.

"The large number of complaints received by the Election Frauds Bureau of my office during the Primary Election as well as during the General Election concerning undue delays of voters as well as other failures in the election procedures makes it essential that consideration be given to proposals for improvements in the law and its administration," Attorney General Lefkowitz said.

Lefkowitz said: "On my recommendation the following bills will be introduced at the 1967 session of the Legislature and will be prefiled prior to the opening day of the session."

To provide that the Boards of Election be authorized to permit the use of separate paper ballots for voting on Constitutional amendments, propositions or other questions and to provide for a separate booth for voters to mark their paper ballots after they have cast their vote on the voting machines. The Attorney General said that the time consuming process of voting for amendments and propositions was responsible for much of the delay at the polls this year.

To provide for the use of paper ballots for voting for delegates at large to future Constitutional Conventions and to provide for a separate booth for voters to mark their paper ballots after they have cast their vote on the voting machines.

To provide for the use of paper ballots for voting for Presidential electors and to provide for a separate booth for voters to mark their paper ballots after they have cast their vote on the voting machines.

To provide that each voter be furnished with a small numbered card after he signs the registry and not to be admitted to the voting machine until he surrenders the card to the officer attending the machine. An investigation conducted by the Attorney General showed that because of over-crowding in some polling places it was possible for unqualified persons to get into line and to vote without signing the registry book.

To provide that registration cards for every voter be in the official color of the political party as prescribed by the election law. Thus, when an enrolled voter appears at a polling place to cast his vote in a party primary election, election inspectors would observe at a glance the color of the registration card and determine whether the voter was entitled to vote in the party's primary. This will help to prevent the voting by persons of one party in the primary of another party which resulted in court proceedings.

To provide for pay increases for election inspectors in an effort to attract more qualified persons to serve at the polls.

To provide for extensive compulsory training and instruction for inspectors of election in the performance of their duties. Under this measure inspectors could receive instruction every year if necessary.

To provide for the use of absentee ballots at special elections. Among those who have been invited to attend the hearings in addition to members of the Board of Elections of New York City, Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk, and representatives of those counties, including the law chairmen and representatives of all political parties, civic organizations, public officials, the League of Women Voters and Citizens Union. The public also is invited to attend.

Elect Kiesinger New Chancellor Of West Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — Christian Democrat Kurt Georg Kiesinger was elected West Germany's new chancellor today, heading the 17-year-old nation's first Christian Democratic-Socialist coalition.

Kiesinger's election by the house, was assured during the night when the Bundestag members of the two major parties agreed to support a coalition Cabinet headed by him to end the 34-day government crisis.

Rivals Since 1949

The two parties have been rivals since the republic's birth in 1949. Their coalition was generally considered a temporary expedient until the general elections in 1969, if it holds together that long.

Kiesinger succeeds Ludwig Erhard, whose coalition with West Germany's third party, the Free Democrats, fell apart Oct. 27 in a budget dispute over raising taxes to pay for U.S. arms. Both Kiesinger and Erhard are Christian Democrats.

As junior partners in the precedent-breaking "grand coalition," the Social Democrats were given nine of the 19 Cabinet posts to be announced later today.

Brandt No. 2 Man

Socialist leader Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, was named vice chancellor and foreign minister.

Kiesinger cleared his last hurdle for the top job early today when the Social Democratic Bundestag members pledged 126-53 to support him. There were eight abstentions. The remaining members of the 202-man delegation were absent.

Kiesinger, 62, for the past eight years minister-president (governor) of his native state of Baden-Wuerttemberg, announced earlier that his own 245-member party Bundestag faction had overwhelmingly approved his Cabinet.

Criticized for Past

A veteran politician who resigned his Bundestag seat to take the governor's job, Kiesinger has been widely criticized for his Nazi past.

Kiesinger joined the Nazi party in 1933 when he was a 29-year-old lawyer. He says he turned against the party the following year but did not leave it. During World War II he worked in the radio propaganda section of the Nazi Foreign Ministry.

The new government has an overwhelming majority — 447 of the Bundestag's 496 seats. The Free Democrats, with 49 votes, are the only opposition.

Woman Critical, Train Slices Car

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—Mrs. Ellen Dhallwal, 34, of Chippewa, Ont., five miles south of here, was critically injured Wednesday when her car was sliced in half by a 98-car New York Central freight train. The car was dragged more than 100 feet from the level crossing before the train was able to stop. Police said Mrs. Dhallwal's seat belt probably saved her from being killed.

Launch Campaign For Civil Service Pay Increases

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Members of two organizations representing state employees have launched a campaign aimed at salary increases of at least 10 per cent, job reclassifications and higher starting pay for 28,000 office and clerical workers. The office workers, members of the Civil Service Employees Association and the New York State Employees Council 50, AFL-CIO, initiated the public phase of the wage drive at a hearing here Wednesday.

Held Hearing

J. Earl Kelly, director of the State Division of Classification and Compensation, held the hearing. About 500 state workers, mostly from Nassau County, New York City and Albany, attended and heard their leaders press for better wages.

Joseph D. Lochner, executive director of the CSEA, asked for a two-grade pay increase for civil service employees. As an example, a grade 3 clerk now draws $3,635 a year. If the two-step boost were granted, the clerk would advance to a grade 5 status at a salary of $3,995 a year, an increase of $360. A senior clerk—grade 7—would advance from $4,465 to a grade 9 payscale, $5,000 a year, a raise of $535.

Civil service employees are paid according to grade, which range from 1 through 38.

Want Minimum

The employee representatives asked further for a $5,000 minimum starting salary for all state workers.

Hazel Abrams, secretary of the SEA, told Kelly that the state's recruiting program would indicate less than complete satisfaction with state pay rates. "If state employment...is so attractive...then one finds it difficult to justify the need for continuous recruiting examinations," she said.

See Deep, Subtle British Changes Within Euromart

LONDON (AP) — If Britain joins the European Common Market the changes in this island's life will be deep and subtle. Food will cost more. Common Market farmers are guaranteed higher prices than Britain's state-subsidized farmers, and the cost is passed directly to the consumer. Britain will have to change its farm policy to conform. Beef will probably cost more, and so will butter. Most livestock prices may go up because of the higher cost of grain used for feed.

10-14 PC Food Hike

The government estimates this may boost the cost of food by 10 to 14 per cent, although the rise will be spread over several years. The price of imported fruit and vegetables probably will come down. The farmers' union warns the cost will be about $3 a week extra, or almost twice the government's estimate.

The entire British economic pie is expected to grow, and the breadwinner's slice of it should be larger. Greater industrial opportunities in a huge market now fenced off by a 12 percent tariff represent the major argument for going into the Common Market.

The big unknown is whether British firms can compete. Rising British sales in Europe already indicate they can. Of the 10 largest companies in Europe, four are British. They are ideally scaled to compete in the huge Common Market which already has 180 million consumers.

Would Need Adjustments

Britain would have to make a host of adjustments in tax and immigration policies. The Common Market's founding treaty provides for free movement of workers on equal terms. For women, the treaty means equal pay, long a sore point in Britain.

The average British worker will discover that he is not necessarily the best-paid or best-cared for in Europe. Fringe benefits — vacations, unemployment compensation, sick leave and pensions — are often better under other European governments.

Britain's prospective European partners may demand that the British pound end its role as a world currency. Devaluation could be one price of British entry. It is more certain that other Common Market countries will be protected from the fiscal shocks Britain absorbs as a price for playing banker to half the world.

Against this must be set another shock to the entire nation if Britain does not enter the Common Market. The British can then count on waking up one day and finding themselves an offshore island, still separated from a dynamic Europe by Channel fog.

Man Killed, Auto Struck by Freight

BERKSHIRE, N.Y. (AP) — Benjamin R. Andrews, 51, of Newark Valley, was killed Wednesday when his automobile was struck by a freight train at a crossing on Route 38.

Herold Daniels, 52, also of Newark Valley, was in serious condition in Tioga Hospital in Waverly.

State Police said the Lehigh Valley train was enroute from Sayre, Pa., to Cortland, N.Y. Andrews' only son entered the Army Monday.

Kackos Ends Course

Seaman Apprentice Edward M. Kackos, USCGR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kackos of Suzie's Cottages, Big Indian, has completed eight weeks of intensive recruit training here which gave him the skills he will need as a Coast Guardsman. Under the able leadership of veteran petty officers he received training in boatmanship, visual signaling, infantry drill, personal hygiene, history and traditions of the Coast Guard.

Says '66 Yule Stamp to Make Mail Masterpiece

Every envelope bearing the 1966 Christmas postage stamp will be a masterpiece, Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk said today.

The special holiday stamp is a replica of a painting by Hans Memling, Flemish master of the Renaissance era, now hanging in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C.

The stamp, which is now on sale at the Kingston Post Office was designed from the central portion of Memling's oil, "Madonna and Child With Angels" which was painted on wood about 1480.

Postmaster Newkirk noted that use of the stamp for the sending of greeting cards assures first-class handling. That means the cards will be forwarded if the addressee has moved or will be returned if there is a return address, he said.

Dear Abby . . .

Abigail Van Buren

I've just had another scene with my husband over our 4-year-old son, and I am at my wits' end.

My son likes to play with doll clothes and doll dishes. This annoys his father no end. Other adults have made some rather unkind remarks about it, too.

Personally, I see nothing wrong with it. Why is it when a little girl plays with cowboy guns and climbs trees everyone calls her a cute little tomboy, but when a boy plays with dolls they say he's queer? Please answer as I am pretty shook.

MOM
DEAR MOM: It's easier to get a little girl down from a tree than it is to get a boy out of a doll house. Encourage your son to play with toys for little boys.

DEAR ABBY: My steady boy friend and I are practically engaged but one thing bothers me. He still writes to an old girl friend of his back in Sioux City, Ia. He showed me her picture once, and she looks like a movie star.

He claims there is nothing between them any more and the only reason he still corresponds with her is because she keeps him up on all the home town news. What do you advise?

JEALOUS
DEAR JEALOUS: Buy him a subscription to the SIOUX CITY JOURNAL AND TRIBUNE for Christmas.

DEAR ABBY: I am sure other wives of traveling men have the same problem. When my husband is out of town he will sometimes get a long distance call. The operator asks, "Is Mr. So and So home?"

I say, "No, he isn't."
She asks, "When do you expect him?"
I say, "Not until next Friday."
She asks, "Where can he be reached?"
I reply, "I don't know. He's on the road now."

Well, Abby, as you can see, it could be someone right around the corner, or very near here just trying to find out if I'm alone and how long I will be alone. With this crime rate rising, shouldn't something be done about this? Maybe someone at the telephone company has the answer.

DEAR LONE: When someone calls for your husband and he is out of the city, you need only ask, WITHOUT REVEALING THAT HE IS OUT OF TOWN, "Who is calling Mr. So and So, please?" If you don't recognize the name, say, "If your party will leave his name and operator's number, I will have Mr. So and So return the call." That way you disclose NO information whatsoever.

Slate Institute Here Monday on Disturbed Youth

Approximately 75 physicians, educators and other professional personnel from throughout Ulster County have been invited to what is expected to be the first in a series of institutes concerned with emotionally disturbed children.

The first program, which is limited to representatives of professions deals directly with these children, is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 5 at 9:30 a. m. in the auditorium of the nurses residence at the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston. Another session of the institute, which is expected to be held in the near future, will be open to the public.

Two area professionals who are closely connected with the problem to be discussed will be the speakers for the Dec. program. Dr. George Mora of the Astor Home in Rhinebeck and Dr. Kurt Haas, the acting chairman of the Behavioral Sciences Department at the State University College in New Paltz, will address the group during the morning and afternoon sessions respectively. They will also serve as resource persons for the discussions which are planned following the formal presentations.

Dr. Emeline Place Hayward, chairman of the Institute Planning Committee, has urged all invited guests to attend this session of the institute to help in the development of machinery for early identification of emotionally disturbed children.

BRIDGE

How to Finesse Opponent's Ace

We don't know whether today's hand should qualify as strategy in bridge or just highway robbery. South was the late Fred Kaplan, a brilliant lawyer and avid bridge player who believed that the element of surprise would win both lawsuits and bridge tournaments.

Fred's two no-trump call illustrates the element of surprise. Any other good player would respond two clubs or maybe one heart and try to steer eventual no-trump play to his partner, but not Fred. He liked to play all hands and he hoped that he would get the benefit of a heart or club lead if he concealed strength in both suits.

Such hopes are usually ill founded. Somehow or other opponents lead their best suits which are likely to be your worst and West opened the five of spades.

Fred looked over dummy and studied the opening lead. It was surely fourth best which meant that West held four, five or six spades and that East would hold at least three. The situation looked hopeless. Fred could run eight tricks but that would be all.

He could accept one down if he wished but Fred was not a man to accept one down. He saw one chance to make his contract. It will risk a set of several tricks but Fred didn't care.

He won the first spade trick with dummy's ace and led the jack of hearts. What would you do if you were East? This East assumed that Fred had the king of spades and played low. Fred hopped up with his king. It held and his one down had been changed to game made.

Upstate Coal Pile Slowly Burns in University Silo

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — A slow-burning fire continued early today to eat its way through 300 tons of soft-coal stored in a nine-story high, steel-lined silo on the campus of the nearby State University at Binghamton.

Meanwhile, fire-fighting crews stood by after pouring hundreds of pounds of foam on top of the stored coal Wednesday in an effort to snuff out the flames by cutting off the oxygen supply.

Herman Ehnthol, chief stationary engineer for the college, said Wednesday night, "I believe we've got this thing whipped."

The fire was discovered last Friday by a school official who noted a circle of flame about ten feet in diameter at the top of the coal stored in the bin. The bin is one of four at a new heating center on the west end of the campus, about an eighth of a mile from the nearest classroom.

About 2,000 students attend the college. Officials there and in the Town of Vestal, site of the school, said if the danger of an explosion increased the area would be evacuated.

The 91-foot high, funnel-shaped bin, 30-feet-across at the top, was about half full when the fire was discovered. The coal can be removed only by putting it on a conveyor belt in the basement and feeding the fuel into furnaces.

The fire is believed to have started through spontaneous combustion and it generated so much gas that firemen were forced to don oxygen masks.

Edwin L. Crawford, supervisor for the Town of Vestal, admitted there was a small possibility of an explosion and said that, if necessary, "we'll move people out of the area."

Crawford and Glen C. Bartle, former president of Binghamton, expressed concern two years ago when the heating center was being built that the use of soft-coal might prove dangerous.

To Air Sewer Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The possibilities of an area-wide sewage-treatment facility will be explored at a public hearing in Cortland Dec. 22.

The State Health Department announced Wednesday that the hearing would involve officials from Cortland and Homer plus the nearby towns of Cortlandville and McGraw.

Winterize Your Driving of Cars, Murphy Advises

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today advised drivers of motor vehicles not to drive too close to each other and suggested they "winterize" their driving judgment just as they winterize their cars.

He proposed thinking of a vehicle ahead "in terms of an air-filled cushion of space. In good weather that cushion is about one car length deep for each 10 miles of speed—a good rule of thumb on dry pavements. On wet pavements you have to expand that cushion in your imagination to about twice the normal size."

In winter, he proposed, with ice and snow conditions, "That cushion must expand from three to 10 times its normal size."

He emphasized these points: Your best defense against collisions on slippery roads is to increase your following distance, and reduce your speed.

"Pump" your brakes with rapid, intermittent applications to stop. You may stop shorter, but you can keep control of your car and avoid skidding.

Have good tires with good treads. Snow tires provide added traction in snow. Reinforced tire chains should be used for maximum traction in deep snow and on glare ice.

"But remember," he added, "regardless of the type of traction aid employed, whether regular or studded snow tires, or even with the far greater help of tire chains, performance on ice- and snow-covered pavements is still nowhere near that on dry pavement!"

Hanky Panky Revealed In Red Kindergarten

MOSCOW (AP) — And then there was the kindergarten which gave a banquet featuring Armenian cognac, vodka and Turkish coffee.

This cost $342 and the menu included, among other delicacies, jellied sturgeon.

The guests were not children, but men from the hydroelectric company in the town, called Mary, near the Iranian border. The company ran the kindergarten, and the staff conveniently made use of some of its funds to have a good time.

The case was one of a number of this kind exposed by Pravda, the paper of the Soviet Communist party. It urged a crackdown on the practice of holding banquets, sometimes with hundreds of guests, and falsifying documents to make them look like legitimate expenses.

Pravda reported that great ingenuity was shown in charging such things off to expenses and getting the state to foot the bill.

Pravda warned: "Everybody who handles public money, from street car conductors up to leaders of farms and plants with budgets in the millions, must show great care."

"The state treasury is an inanimate object incapable of self-defense."

Elks Memorial Service Slated On Sunday Night

The annual Elks Memorial Service, dedicated to the memory of deceased brothers, will be observed throughout the country on the first Sunday of December. Joining with other Elks Lodges will be members of Kingston Lodge, No. 550 BPOE of Kingston, who will conduct their services at 8 p. m. at the Fair Street Elks Home.

The speaker for the evening will be Robert M. Smith, past altered ruler of Kingston Lodge and a past district deputy. All Elks, their friends and the public are invited to attend the memorial service.

Members of the Memorial Services Committee named by Exalted Ruler William G. Davis are John Machione, PER, chairman; Bruce A. Miller, PER, and a past state vice president; Francis McCardie, PER, and Charles A. Ryan, PER, and a past district deputy.

High-Price Steak

CHICAGO (AP) — A one-pound New York strip steak would cost $132.82 and a pound of hamburger would bring $34.22.

This is the retail price range that the grand champion steer of the International Live Stock Exposition could possibly bring, if and when it is slaughtered, to justify the $17,625 paid for it at auction Tuesday.

But a kinder fate may be in store for "Blackie," the 1,175-pound Aberdeen-Angus junior yearling.

The Chicago Mercantile Exchange, buyer of the first-prize steer, said the animal would be shown at several of the nation's agriculture schools and used to promote livestock futures trading at the commodity exchange.

Then, said Everette Harris, exchange president, Blackie may be retired to the farm exhibit at Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo.

The winning steer was shown by Harvey Hartner, a cattle breeder from Carlock, Ill.

Asks Legislation For Farm Worker Under Labor Laws

NEW YORK (AP) — Remedial legislation to include farm workers under protective labor laws was called a "first priority" item today by the head of the State AFL-CIO.

Raymond R. Corbett, president of the labor group, urged that "all the man-made barriers which shut out farm workers from rights enjoyed by other Americans" be torn down.

"Of all those who work in agriculture, the plight of the men, women and children who work for wages is the worst," he said in testimony prepared for the Joint Legislative Committee on Industrial and Labor Conditions.

Such workers, Corbett said, are among the lowest paid, yet they are excluded from coverage by the statewide minimum wage.

Nor, said Corbett, are such workers covered by unemployment insurance law protection although they work an average of only 129 days a year or only

Will Not Issue All-Night Permits To Usher in '67

Due to the fact that New Year's Day, Jan. 1, 1967 is a Sunday, the New York State Liquor Authority this year will not issue All-Night Permits for New Year's Eve to on-premises licensees, it was announced today.

In past years, when New Year's Day fell on a weekday, the Authority issued All-Night Permits to on-premises licensees desiring them, extending the closing hour on the morning of New Year's Day to 8 a. m., the usual opening hour.

Package store licensees are reminded that they must close Monday, Dec. 26, 1966. The Alcoholic Beverage Control Law requires that licensed package store premises shall be closed on Christmas Day. When Christmas Day falls on a Sunday, the store must be closed on the following day also.

National Monument

Approve $500,000 In Housing Loans For Ike College

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved reservations of $500,000 in college housing loan funds for Eisenhower College, Seneca Falls, N.Y.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said Wednesday in announcing the action that it is based on a preliminary application for financing for a new administration building and dining hall. The federal funds would be supplemented by $1,738,000 of the college's money.

Rocky Handles Tax Point Like Ticking Package

By CHARLES DUMAS
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, once badly burned by his promise to hold the line on state taxes, is handling the tax question now like a ticking package to be immersed in water before opening.

He came to his first post-election Capitol news conference this week with a carefully devised, one-sentence comment on the tax issue, and he would not be shaken from it.

No Amplification

"I am going to do everything in my power to hold down expenditures and to make a tax increase unnecessary," he declared in response to the inevitable question.

All attempts by newsmen to get him to amplify the statement — to extract any expression of confidence that he would succeed in his objective — met with grim resistance.

Later, gubernatorial aides told reporters that, while Rockefeller was reasonably certain there would be no need for a tax increase in 1967, he was determined not to be caught out on a limb again.

They recalled that, during the 1962 election campaign, Rockefeller flatly promised to hold the line on taxes throughout his second term — a pledge that he subsequently called "my biggest blunder in politics."

Were Predicted

His Democratic opponent, Robert M. Morgenthau, had charged that the Republican governor would raise taxes. If re-elected, But Rockefeller scornfully rejected the idea, explaining that state revenues would keep pace with fiscal needs.

Soon after beginning his second term, however, Rockefeller raised motor vehicle registration charges and other license charges, contending they were "fees" and not taxes.

Subsequently, he increased taxes on liquor and cigarettes and instituted the state sales tax.

His explanation was that he had no choice, because projections of revenue growth simply proved inaccurate.

But Democrats in the Legislature criticized him severely and repeatedly for breaking his promise. And, during the 1966 election campaign, Frank D. O'Connor made the most of it.

Pressing the theme that Rockefeller could not be taken at his word, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate adopted as his own campaign slogan: "You can believe Frank O'Connor."

Many Anxious Moments

While the tactic did not culminate in victory for O'Connor, Rockefeller experienced many anxious moments.

"I'm not making any promises on taxes," he said with a grimace.

Apart from that experience, there could be another reason why the governor would carry his reticence beyond the election.

Wrestling with the perennial problem of rising governmental costs, the governor also is confronted by demands from the potent education lobby for a massive increase in state aid to the public schools — beyond the automatic boost afforded by aid formulas.

The customary way for governors to blunt such thrusts is to fuss and fret publicly over the barren state of the treasury. Raising the spectre of tax increases is considered legitimate strategy.

While Rockefeller may not really believe that a tax boost will be required, he obviously is going to do his best to keep the would-be spenders in check.

Whatever his motive, it appears unlikely he will commit himself one way or another until he has his next budget plan locked up, probably in mid-January.

Rosendale Board Sets Hearings; Buys Equipment

The Rosendale Town Board voted to purchase highway equipment and set date for two hearings at a special meeting this week.

The only bid received for a portable sander was from Hudson Engineering. The board voted to purchase the equipment for $2,675 at all specifications were met. Funds are allotted for the purchase in the highway budget.

Solicitation and building permits for the town were discussed and hearings will be held on Dec. 12 on both matters.

Building permit hearing will be held 6 p. m. on that date. It was noted that building permits would be an asset to the board in knowing what kind of construction is going on in the town and a help to the assessors.

Soliciting permit hearing will follow at 8 p. m. A fee of $15 had been discussed. The permit would not be required for food or drug salesmen but would be designed to curtail door-to-door salesmen.

Asks Delay of Penns. NYC Railroad Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department wants the Supreme Court to delay merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads until some protection is given to three smaller competitors of the two huge eastern carriers.

In a brief filed with the court Wednesday, the department emphasized that "we do not quarrel with the merits of the Penn-Central merger itself."

But the brief continued, "We question whether it (the Interstate Commerce Commission) can properly permit the irrevocable step of consummation when vexing problems involving the merger's impact on other important railroads remain unresolved."

The three smaller roads are the Boston and Maine, the Delaware & Hudson, and the Erie-Lackawanna. The ICC is now holding special hearings on whether the Penn-Central should pay the three lines' stockholders for any loss of capital value resulting from the merger.

Further hearings on the matter are scheduled for Jan. 9 before the court.

Wednesday was the deadline for filing briefs.

Two Men Hurt, Driver Cited in West Saugerties

Two men were injured and a motorist was cited for failure to keep to the right Wednesday, after a two-car crash on West Saugerties Road about 5½ miles from the intersection of Routes 212 and 32.

Trooper A. W. Spencer of the Kingston State Police unit said the cars were driven by Fred Wiedemann, 61, of 230 Main Street, city, and Peter J. Callinan, 24, of New Milford, N. J. Callinan was cited by Trooper Richard Dempsey for motor vehicle violation.

Callinan suffered a fractured right arm and laceration of the forehead. A passenger in his car, Gary Peters, 26, West Saugerties, received lacerations of the face. The injured were taken to Kingston Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance Service.

According to Trooper Dempsey's report, Wiedemann was driving north and negotiating a right curve and Callinan was traveling in the opposite direction when the vehicles collided.

Hints from Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Folks:

I've discovered the most TERRIFIC packing material for mailing packages!

I was getting ready to throw out some empty egg cartons (the paper mache type), and the thought struck me that they'd make good cushioning for some fragile things I wanted to mail.

After putting a lot of tissue paper around the objects, I taped pieces of the egg cartons around them, put them in the box, then used more sections of the cartons to fill up the nooks and crannies of the box.

After all, why wad up paper when you can use something full of air pockets? Air cost nothing to mail!

Complain to Allen On Oral Prayers

NEW HARTFORD, N. Y. (AP) — Two college professors have complained to the state education commissioner about a decision by the Board of Education here to reinstate oral prayers for elementary pupils in the public school of this Utica suburb.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1962 that official prayers in public schools were unconstitutional.

Raymond Simon and Charles Samuels, both of New Hartford, said they had protested the New Hartford action in letters to state Commissioner James E. Allen Jr.

This free packing material gives a little (to lessen the danger of breakage) and weighs practically nothing, so cuts down on mailing costs.

Save a few of these egg cartons, and try my idea next time you have a package to send.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

If you are a restless sleeper, buy foam hair rollers.

Before going to bed, do your hair up DRY, same way you did it on the brush rollers.

Be sure not to wet the hair, or you may wind up with fuzz.

A.B.T.O.

Dear Heloise:

All housewives need a generous supply of dish towels.

I make my own by cutting out the good parts of old cotton and linen tablecloths in pieces 18" x 32", and hemming them on all sides.

Since these have been washed and ironed so many times, they are lovely and soft.

Reader

Dear Heloise:

When I was a young housewife, the girls in our neighborhood used to have sewing bees.

Wouldn't it be great if housewives nowadays would get together for housecleaning bees? This way, housework could really be fun.

They could either draw straws for the different jobs, or each one could pick out the task she preferred to do.

Each woman could bring her lunch, the hostess furnishing coffee or tea; and while lunching, they could engage in a nice gab fest.

How about that?

Grandma

Dear Piemakers:

You know how when you are making a cooked custard pie the filling doesn't usually go up very far around the edge of the crust, and you end up with a lot of crust sticking up—and you get a mouthful of crust and no filling?

As soon as you put the custard in the crust, take a big spoon and gently "spank" the middle of the pie and the custard will go up a good quarter of an inch onto the crust. Much better eating.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Those plastic clothes bags that come from the cleaners make a fine trash collecting bag. Just tie a secure knot in the end with the small hole that the hanger goes through.

They are ideal for collecting upstairs trash from the various waste baskets. No more lugging waste baskets up and down the stairs, the bags are disposable and free.

Helen Plummer

Dear Heloise:

Put liquid window cleaner in a small medicine bottle that has an eye dropper (can be bought at drug store for about 15c, if you don't have a clean one) and label the bottle.

Simply put one drop on each lens of your glasses and wipe clean.

I keep one bottle near my sewing machine, one in the desk, and one on my handbag.

No more glasses I can't see through!

"See" you in tomorrow's paper.

Steak Revealed As Best Buy in Market Places

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want to save some money for Christmas shopping this week, try steak.

That's right, steak. Beef prices have fallen, and sirloin steak is down 30 cents a pound at a major supermarket chain in the New York area.

Beef roasts and steaks also are featured on specials in the Northeast, Southeast and Midwest — just about everywhere but California, where prices edged up this week.

Pork, which has been dropping the past month, also is down again—pork chops, hams, bacon, and that includes California.

Wholesale egg prices dropped sharply this week. They are down 2 to 6 cents a dozen at a New York supermarket, after a 2 cent drop last week. They also are lower in the Southwest—2 to 4 cents higher in San Francisco.

A New York importer, Bauer International, is importing eggs from the Netherlands to help meet the holiday demand.

Florida's vegetable crops suffered additional damage from freezing weather this week. The tomato crop already was off to a slow start following earlier weather problems. Shipments of fresh tomatoes have run about 17 per cent lower than a year ago.

But there are more frozen strawberries, thanks to a big crop in Oregon. A California freezer has cut prices. Mandatory meatless Fridays for U.S. Catholics end Friday, but spokesmen for the nation's $2 billion a year retail fish industry don't expect major changes in the demand for fish over the long run.

Lone Survivor Always Scared About Storms

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — When Dennis Hale signed on the freighter Daniel J. Morrell it was reluctantly and with a fear of Great Lakes storms.

"He was awful scared about storms," said his wife, Bertha. "He was always afraid."

But Hale was the lucky one — he survived.

At least 12 of his sailing mates perished when the Morrell split during a raging storm and plunged to the bottom of Lake Huron.

Sixteen other crewmen were missing.

Rescued 34 Hours Later

Hale was rescued 34 hours after the Morrell went down in freezing temperatures. A Coast Guard helicopter found him huddled under three lodges on a raft eight miles northeast of here.

He was suffering from exposure. A priest administered last rites.

"Father, why am I alive?" Hale asked.

"You are alive because God wanted you to be alive," said the Rev. Cornelius McEchin.

"First, perhaps God wants me to be alive," Hale, 26, replied. "And secondly, perhaps God wants me to suffer a little before I die."

Doctors said they expected the deck watchman, hospitalized here, to pull through.

Hale, whose wife and four children live in Ashtabula, Ohio, his hometown, said he was asleep in his bunk in the Morrell when awakened by "a hard thump."

Was Breaking in Half

"I heard the emergency alarm, got dressed and ran topside," he said. "The ship was breaking in half."

He and the three other men launched the raft.

"As we were floating out I could see the two halves of the ship hitting each other," he said. "They had separated and the back part still had power and kept ramming the front part."

"She buckled and she sank," he said.

Mrs. Hale said her husband had been reluctant to join the crew of the Morrell three years ago because of the dangers. But he signed on anyway.

"There just wasn't anything else available as far as money and jobs," Mrs. Hale said.

Allies to Use Airpower If Cong Violates Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—American and allied forces in Viet Nam will use air power if necessary to defend themselves against any Viet Cong violations of the holiday truce, sources disclosed today.

These officials expect the fighting pause to be more difficult for the Communists to control than for the allies.

Consequently, instructions are being given to fit the response to the degree of Communist attack.

In Chicago, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told reporters Wednesday, "Everybody remembers last year and the violations of the truce by the other side. We will have to watch ourselves and keep ourselves in a position to shoot back."

Asked whether he thought the truce might be a step toward peace talks, Rusk said, "We have not seen any basis for that."

Officials in Washington discounted reports that American military men here and in Viet Nam universally deplored the truce of two days each at Christmas and at New Year's and four days in February at the lunar new year.

Beth Is Hardly

so he can place her for adoption. The Liumis, an Italian-American couple, have sought to adopt the child but were turned down by Commissioner Fitzsimmons, partly because of differences in coloring and ethnic background.

Appoints Connor

Judge Herzberg opened Wednesday's proceedings by appointing William E. J. Connor, a former Columbia County Family Court judge, and father of five, as Beth's special guardian and then postponed a hearing until Jan. 9.

The hearing before Judge Herzberg was ordered by the Appellate Division after it voided a previous order giving custody of the child to Fitzsimmons on the ground that Ulster County Family Court Judge Hugh Elwyn, who issued the order, was related to the commissioner by marriage.

After Wednesday's hearing, Liumi said, "We'll have a merry Christmas—we'll have the baby with us."

On the heels of the holiday proceedings, which focused national television attention on the Ulster County Courthouse and Kingston Wednesday, one of the top child psychiatrists in the country inserted his professional opinion in the matter.

Johns Hopkins Expert

Dr. Leon Eisenberg, professor of Child Psychiatry at famed Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, said that "The central and overriding issue in the Liumi adoption case is the importance of maintaining the continuity of this youngster's relationship with the only set of parents she has ever known."

Dr. Eisenberg added that, "It would be a gross miscarriage of social justice if this child were to be removed arbitrarily." He also labeled as "so utterly absurd as to be unbelievable in this day and age" the statements attributed to Welfare Commissioner Fitzsimmons on differences of eye, hair and skin color and ethnic extraction between Beth and the Liumi family.

Dr. Eisenberg's thoughts were expressed in a letter to Leonard Tarr, the Liumi attorney, following a request from Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick while noting that his opinion was based on publicly revealed facts in the case and on general principles of child care. Dr. Eisenberg wrote that if any information has been withheld, he might have to form a different conclusion. Based on what he does know, however, he said, Beth should be allowed to stay with the Liumi, who have apparently provided her with excellent care and who desire to adopt her.

Referring to the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Liumi, both 48-years-old, are considered "too old" to adopt Beth, the doctor's letter said:

"It is true that they are considerably older than most parents of four-year-old children. This is a factor which I would indeed have weighed were this family now applying for adoptive rights to a child who had not lived with them and who would in any event be moving into a new family, this or some other. . . . But to impress this consideration upon a situation in which the child has known no other parents than these is utterly absurd. . . . Beth will clearly be better off in this home even if she must lose a parent at age 15 or 20 than she will be if she is removed from this home and placed in another at the age of four-and-one-half."

On Ethnic Question

On the ethnic background question, the doctor said, "What will matter to this child, as it will to any child, is not the continuity of ethnic extraction or similarity in physical appearance to parents but the question of the emotional climate in the home and the capacity of the adoptive parents to provide conditions which will promote healthy development."

Dr. Eisenberg concluded his letter with this pertinent statement, "If there is to be justification for arbitrarily removing this child from her foster parents, at great cost to herself and them, there would have to be evidence of neglect or mistreatment."

Meanwhile, the holiday truce in the case showed no signs of actually becoming a true and legitimate truce. Charges and counter charges not only continue to flow in and out of the Kingston area today between the Fitzsimmons and Resnick camps, but seemed to increase and become even more heated than before.

Battle Rages Anew

If local residents had hoped that the sounds of carols and Christmas bells and the vistas of holly and mistletoe would drown out the noises of bickering and wrangling even temporarily, they could apparently forget such thoughts. The battle of words rages locally on what has descended to almost a political level, national publicity surges abroad unabated—and it is obvious that the non-private eyes of cameras from here and afar will zero in on Beth when she opens that "bag of toys" from the "portly red-clad gentleman" of legend.

Christmas at the Liumi's is beginning to show all the indications of becoming anything but a "family" affair—but it will still have its "Tiny Tim" in Beth and its Scrooge, too, depending on whose side you're on.

Fitzsimmons Hits

spread and unfavorable publicity unwarranted by the 'true facts'—and which can very conceivably have a disastrous effect on the life of this child."

Fiscal Estimates Speculate U.S. May Spend Up to $140 Billions

By KARL R. BAUMAN

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The federal government may spend as much as $130 billion in the present fiscal year and perhaps $140 billion in the bookkeeping year beginning July 1, government experts speculate.

The experts forecast today expenditures in the range of $127 billion to $130 billion this fiscal year compared with President Johnson's budget estimate of $113 billion last January.

May Go Higher

If spending goes as high as $130 billion this year, these experts said, the budget could go $10 billion higher next fiscal year. But they described the $140 billion figure as speculative. They gave no revenue estimates for fiscal 1968, which begins next July 1.

While spending is up sharply from the January estimate, the income picture is brighter. Experts now estimate revenues for the present year at $117 billion or more, an increase of $6 billion over the January estimate.

Assuming spending of $130 billion and income of $117 billion, there would be a budget deficit of $13 billion for this year.

Defense spending, including the war in Viet Nam, accounts for about $10 billion of the spending increase, experts said. Higher interest rates on financing the national debt and the tight money situation account for another $5 billion of the increase, they said.

Cite Added Strain

They feel that tight money puts an added strain on government lending agencies and has forced the postponement of sale of some federal securities to private investors.

Johnson said earlier this week that he did not expect to decide until around the end of the year on whether to ask Congress for an income tax increase.

Experts said he wants to wait for December revenue figures before deciding. Then, too, they said, he wants latest possible estimates on plant investment next year since heavy spending means added inflationary pressures.

Lawyers Answer

Beth St. John above his head in the manner of a sacrificial offering when his sophomore status in Congress was assured election night.

Today, three prominent members of the Democratic party in Woodstock (which is not only the former stamping grounds of TV's Game Pressman but the residence, too, of Commissioner Fitzsimmons) lashed out against Haver in a prepared statement. The release was signed by John O. Bonilla, Woodstock Town Democratic chairman, and Peter Grad and Peter Rakov, of the executive committee of the Democratic Club there.

Cites Unfair Play

The release noted that "government is everyone's business and any official can be questioned when the future of a youngster is at stake." It cited the fact that questions by Resnick had "stirred up a hornet's nest" but questioned, in turn, if any public official is "untouchable and above public criticism."

Resnick had not been irresponsible in attacking Judge Elwyn, of Ulster County Family Court, said the three Woodstockers, since his decision was overturned by the State on the basis of family relationship between Elwyn and Fitzsimmons. The statement defended the congressman's right to question the "morality and legality" of local officials as a democratic right.

Resnick had "offered" that Fitzsimmons is supported by the State Welfare Commissioner by noting that George Wyman, who has been mayor of the Harlem church for 38 years.

Williams said the plan called for the televised sermons to be sent from Washington. He said he did not know when they would begin.

Powell lost on Wednesday his first legal effort to overturn one of four arrest orders against him. State Supreme Court Justice Arthur Markewich refused to revise his order of three days ago which made Powell liable to arrest on criminal contempt charges on any — day of week.

The contempt convictions stem from unsuccessful attempts by Esther James to collect a $164,000 defamation judgment from Powell since a jury awarded damages to her more than three years ago.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., has served notice that he will try to block Powell from taking his seat in the new Congress unless he stops defying the state courts.

Guy W. Vaughn, Manufacturer of Cars Here, Dies

A man who shortly after the turn of the century, and before Detroit, Mich., became the capitol of the automobile industry, made a vain attempt to bring that honor to Kingston, died November 21, at his New Rochelle home, age 82.

He was Guy Warner Vaughn, who came to Kingston and began the manufacture of the Vaughn car at the plant now occupied by Huetkrol, Inc., manufacturers of hydraulic equipment. During his residence in Kingston he made many friends and not long ago visited Kingston and was guest of the William Warrens.

Left Kingston

After leaving Kingston Mr. Vaughn continued in the field of engineering and as president and chairman of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation was one of the first men to apply mass-production techniques to the aviation industry.

From the time he was a young high school graduate taking correspondence courses in automobile mechanics and engineering until his retirement as president of Curtiss-Wright company 17 years ago, Mr. Vaughn was fascinated by speed and engines.

Working for the Desborens Motor Car Company of New Rochelle while taking mail order courses in automobile mechanics and engineering, he turned to work at that time prior to the Wright Brothers flight on the outer banks of North Carolina, were the fastest things around.

Vaughn shifted to the Standard Automobile Company, which imported foreign cars such as the Panhard, and he raced for the company against such men as Oldfield, Louis Chevrolet and Frank Leland. In 1902 he won the Gordon Bennett cup and for some time he held the mileage record for 24-hour continuous driving.

Designed Runabout

It was in 1908 that he designed and manufactured the Vaughn Runabout at a price of $4,600. This car was manufactured in Kingston but mass-production soon caught up with the industry and the local factory closed. During the days the Vaughn car was manufactured in Kingston it was common sight to see the cars being road tested about the city and local area. Employed as "test drivers" for the Vaughn cars were numerous famous race drivers. The Vaughn car was entered in several speed and endurance contests and became well known in automobile circles.

After the outbreak of World War I, Mr. Vaughn was brought into the aviation industry as a quality manager for Curtiss. The company had a contract for 450 Hispano-Suiza engines. By July 1917 only 100 had been completed. Mr. Vaughn applied his mass-production and standardization principles and by the time the contract was completed, the company was turning out 2,000 engines a month. By 1925 he had become vice president of Curtiss-Wright. He was a personal friend of Charles A. Lindbergh, having furnished the Lindbergh Spirit of St. Louis with its J-5 engine.

In 1945 Mr. Vaughn retired, and in 1948 he was elected mayor of Kingston. He was a member of the Harlem church for 38 years.

Powell to Preach In Harlem Church By Closed-Circuit

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., faced with arrest, plans to continue preaching Sundays at the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem by closed-circuit television.

Powell's attorney, Henry R. Williams, said the use of television had been under consideration "for some time" by Powell, who has been mayor of the Harlem church for 38 years.

Williams said the plan called for the televised sermons to be sent from Washington. He said he did not know when they would begin.

Powell lost on Wednesday his first legal effort to overturn one of four arrest orders against him. State Supreme Court Justice Arthur Markewich refused to revise his order of three days ago which made Powell liable to arrest on criminal contempt charges on any — day of week.

The contempt convictions stem from unsuccessful attempts by Esther James to collect a $164,000 defamation judgment from Powell since a jury awarded damages to her more than three years ago.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., has served notice that he will try to block Powell from taking his seat in the new Congress unless he stops defying the state courts.

Powell was reported fishing aboard his yacht off the Bahamas.

The battle of Full Run, or Manassas, was the first major conflict of the Civil War.

Custody of Beth to the Liumi family did not mention background or age, but was based on medical reasons only, the Woodstock trio again demurred. Said Bonilla, Grad and Rakov, "Both Fitzsimmons' testimony and Judge Elwyn's opinion listed ethnic background and age as major factors."

The release referred to Resnick as "an American citizen who questioned the dubious deeds of welfare commissioners" and said the fact that this citizen is congressman of this district should be a "matter of pride."

Local Death Record

Hattie Palmer

Hattie Palmer of Kerhonkson died Nov. 29 at Kingston. Born in Pine Bush Sept. 8, 1893, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greeley Palmer. Surviving are a sister Mrs. Maggie DePuy of Kerhonkson; three nephews, Benjamin DePuy of Kerhonkson, Floyd DePuy of Ulster Heights, and Elmer Palmer of Middletown. Funeral services will be held Friday 2 p. m. at the Loucks Funeral Home Inc., Ellenville. The Rev. Eugene Crabb, pastor of the Ellenville Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Fankentill Cemetery, Ellenville. Friends may call at the funeral home 4 to 9 p. m. today.

James W. Hurrell

Funeral services for James W. Hurrell of Glenford who died Saturday at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Albany, were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Lasher Funeral Home Inc., Woodstock. The Rev. Paul C. Hoyt, pastor of the Glenford Methodist Church, officiated. During the repose friends and relatives called at the funeral home and beautiful floral tributes were received. Tuesday evening the Kingston Lodge No. 10, F&M conducted the ritualistic services for the Merchants Lodge No. 709, F&M, at which Mrs. Hurrell was a member for over 60 years. Burial was in Woodstock Cemetery where full military honors were accorded by representatives from the United States Military Academy at West Point in honor of Mr. Hurrell's service to his country during the Spanish American War and World War I.

Burial will be in Montrose Cemetery.

Kosygin Arrives In Paris to Aid Franco-USSR Ties

By STEPHENS BROENING

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin arrived today for a nine-day state visit expected to strengthen further the new ties between France and the Soviet Union.

President Charles de Gaulle was at the airport to meet Kosygin, who arrived from Moscow on his first official visit to the West since he became premier in 1964. The visit returns one De Gaulle made to Moscow last June.

To Lessen Tensions

De Gaulle seeks to lessen tensions between the Soviet Union and the West by "bringing Russia back into Europe." He and the Soviets want American influence in Europe to decline and have found similarity of opinions on Viet Nam and some other world issues.

French sources said Kosygin and De Gaulle would begin today a round of talks expected to cover German reunification and the new West German coalition government, Viet Nam and other issues.

These sources said no major accords were expected. They noted that a joint declaration issued after De Gaulle went to Moscow said the two governments would continue regular consultations. Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny and Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev are to come to Paris next year.

248 killed and 77 missing during the previous week. The U.S. headquarters reported 1,422 enemy soldiers killed and 133 captured compared with 1,098 killed and 143 captured the week before.

The increase in American casualties last week apparently resulted from hard fighting in the Central Highlands in which some units of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) were hard hit.

The B52 raid near Saigon this afternoon struck at a Viet Cong troop concentration 27 miles northwest of the capital. A few hours earlier B52s raided an enemy storage area 18 miles northwest of the city of Quang Ngai, on the central coast.

Daniel J. Reilly

Joseph Hamilton, assistant pastor. Mrs. Charles Dickman, organist-soloist. Burial was in St. Mary's Churchyard Cemetery with Father Hamilton pronouncing the final blessing. Bearers were Earl Benjamin, Joseph Benjamin, Edward Flanagan and Robert Wynne. Tuesday evening the Rosary Society of St. Mary's Church called and was led in the recitation of the Holy Rosary by the Rev. Charles Kaufmann. Tuesday afternoon the Sisters of Charity called at the funeral home and offered prayers. There were many spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards and many floral tributes. Many friends called to offer condolences.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Snyder

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, 87, of 11 Division Street, Saugerties, who died Sunday were held Wednesday 2 p. m. at the Seamon Funeral Home Inc., John and Lafayette Streets, Saugerties with the Rev. Joseph H. Rainear, pastor of the Saugerties Methodist Church officiating. During the repose at the funeral home many friends called to pay their respects and many beautiful floral tributes were received. Monday 7:30 p. m. members of Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge 34 called at the funeral home and conducted ritualistic services for their departed charter member led by Noble Grand Hannah Lewis; Vice Grand Blanche Dunn and Chaplain Dorothy Imhoff. Soloists were Mildred Gippert and Dorothy Imhoff. At 8 p. m. the Imperial Council No. 16, Daughters of America called at the funeral home and conducted ritualistic services led by Councilor Anna Minkler; Junior Past Councilor Ruth Burns; Vice Councilor Julia Carier, Assistant Junior Past Councilor Susie Shaler and soloists, Luella Daley. At 8 p. m. Tuesday members of the Saugerties Public Health Nursing Committee called. Burial was in Blue Mountain Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Rainear conducted committal services.

'Very Grave' Roni Sue Suffers Convulsion, Not Expected to Live

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roni Sue, the only surviving member of a quintuplet, suffered a convulsion today and her doctor said he feared "she will not live."

"Roni Sue had a very bad night," Dr. Lee Bass, the infant's pediatrician, announced shortly before noon. "Her condition is very grave."

"Until about 6 a. m. she was doing very well," said the doctor "but at about that time she had a convulsion that lasted for a short time."

Brain Damage Feared

"The convulsion along with the breathing difficulties that are now present make it almost certain that there is brain damage now," he added.

Then Bass, who earlier had said he was hopeful the 5-day-old child could surmount the many medical problems facing her, said:

"The outlook for life is very poor. It is the feeling now that she will not live."

About 75 per cent of Roni Sue's blood was exchanged Wednesday in an attempt to check a jaundice condition that doctors said could lead to brain damage.

Afterwards, Dr. Bass said "Despite the risk of the transfusion, the baby did quite good and took the procedure quite good. We are hopeful of a successful recovery."

Earlier Wednesday, the tiny infant stopped breathing several times due to a respiratory problem similar to the one that took the lives of her four sisters, doctors said.

Her four sisters died within 56 hours of their birth Saturday in Magee-Women's Hospital. The quint was born 2½ months prematurely to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Aranson, both 22, of Pittsburgh.

Winter Storm Is Still Lashing Great Lakes Area

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — A vicious winter storm which sank the 603-foot freighter Daniel J. Morrell in Lake Huron continued to lash the Great Lakes today, colder and only slightly abated in fury.

Twenty-eight men were feared lost in the sinking Tuesday.

20-Foot Waves
Gusty winds which earlier had raised 20-foot waves hit peaks of 35 to 40 miles an hour early today, and temperatures plunged close to zero in the northern portions of lakes Michigan and Huron.

The bitter gales loosed snow squalls on the lee shores of the lakes and inland.

At Traverse City, heavy snow-fall cut visibility to one-quarter mile in 10-degree air, whipped by 27-mile-an-hour northwesterly gusts. At Houghton Lake in the northcentral part of Lower Michigan, it was 3 above zero with snow and 25-mile winds. Muskegon, Mich., on the east shore of Lake Michigan received 3 inches of snow in six hours.

In the northern plains, the cold was more severe. At International Falls on Minnesota's Canadian border, where the mercury has been below zero for more than a day, the temperature was 13 below at 2 a.m. Subzero air covered much of North Dakota and the northern portions of Minnesota and Montana.

50-40 in Florida
The weather was on the cold side throughout the eastern half of the nation, and Florida had nighttime 30s and 40s. The Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast calls for colder-than-normal weather over the region. Above-normal temperatures are expected west of the Continental Divide and near-normal weather elsewhere.

The cold air pushing in from central Canada set off snow showers and flurries over much of the Midwest and East.

Rain spread over the north Pacific Coast and Washington state. The South remained mostly dry and clear.

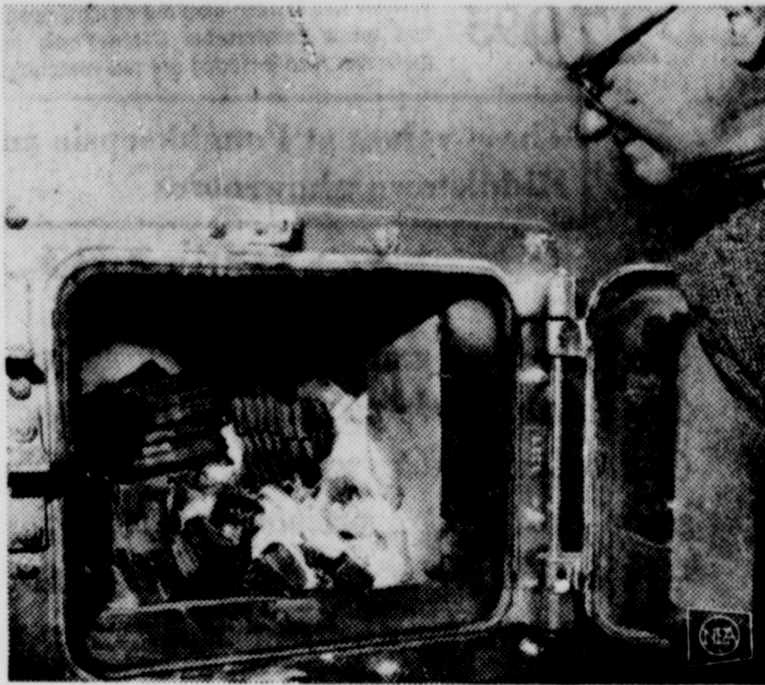

CS Exam

The U.S. Civil Service Commission issued today examination announcements for supervisory operations assistant, GS-7, powered ground equipment repairer, A/C Painter-Airframe Fabric Worker, WX-9, and A/C Sheet-metal Worker for the 904 Troop Carrier Group, Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh. These are Air Reserve Technician positions. Air Reserve Technicians are full-time civilian employees who are also members of the Air Force Reserve Unit in which they are employed. Competitors for these positions will not be required to report for a written test, but will be rated on the extent and quality of their experience and training relevant to the duties of the position. Full information with instructions on how to apply may be obtained from most larger post offices, at Civil Service Offices, Boards of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, and at the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, Dobbins Air Force Base, Georgia 30060. Applications will be accepted until Aug. 24.

MONEY TO BURN at the Federal Reserve. Every week thousands and thousands of dollars wind up in ashes as the Reserve banks fulfill one of their duties—destroying worn-out bills. Above, $100 packets, "canceled" first with large holes, are fed into a special furnace at the Ninth Federal Reserve Bank in Minneapolis. Right, the bills go up in expensive smoke. A bank official stands by at all times to make certain every bill burns completely. Just in case he misses, the furnace is fitted with 16 combination locks to prevent anyone later raking over the ashes. The old money isn't a total loss—paper currency burns at high temperature, helping to heat the building.

N.Y. Still Faces Garbage Tieup

NEW YORK (AP) — The threat of a garbage collection strike that could halt more than half the city's refuse pick-ups persisted today after mediators beat early morning deadlines in heading off bus and laundry service walkouts.

Negotiations continued past a midnight contract expiration time on a wage dispute between 2,000 sanitation men and the 400 private carting companies which dispose of refuse from hotels, restaurants and other commercial establishments—about 60 per cent of the city's total garbage.

No Strike Called
Talks were broken off at 5:20 a.m. today. But a spokesman for Teamsters Local 813, representing the garbage truck drivers and helpers, said no strike had been called. He indicated, however, at least 150 men planned to stay away from work today.

The cartmen were seeking a $30 a week raise over three years. Their present salaries range from $112 to $134 a week. The city, meanwhile, drew up an emergency schedule for garbage disposal, contingent on inspections by the Health and Fire Departments. The strike would not affect normal city home collection.

Settlement of the laundry dispute, which threatened 90 per cent of the commercial operations in New York City, Long Island and parts of New Jersey and Connecticut, will mean higher prices for family laundry and businesses such as hotels, restaurants and barbershops, spokesmen for both the laundries and AFL-CIO Amalgamated Laundry Workers Joint Board said.

Still to Be Ratified
The new three year contract, still to be ratified by the union's 15,000 members, calls for a 25 per cent wage increase over a three-year period. The present minimum level ranges from $1.32 to $1.37 1/2 per hour.

In the bus dispute, the Transport Workers Union and the Westchester Street Transportation Co. agreed to a new one-year contract shortly after the midnight deadline. A strike by drivers and mechanics would have affected 35,000 riders a day in central and southern Westchester.

The terms of the agreement include a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase to $3.21 an hour, a 40-hour guaranteed work week for extra drivers, full group health insurance coverage for all union members and their families, and expanded medical coverage.

Negotiations continued here, meanwhile, toward averting a threatened Friday noon strike by 13,000 TWU members against Pan American World Airways.

Identify 2 N.Y. Men as Victims Of Lake Tragedy

DETROIT (AP) — Twenty-nine crewmen were aboard the freighter Daniel J. Morrell which sank in a Lake Huron storm, said a spokesman for Bethlehem Steel Corp. which leased the vessel.

New York and Pennsylvania crewmen identified from papers on their bodies as dead:

Chester Konieczka, 45, of Hamburg, N.Y.

Charles J. Sestakauskas, 50, of 212 N. Walnut St., Georgetown, Pa.

Bethlehem Steel Corp. declined immediately to release a list of the crew. Here is a partial list of New York and Pennsylvania crewmen believed to have been aboard the ship, as based on the ship's Oct. 29 roster and a report from the Marine Employees Beneficial Association in Toledo, Ohio:

—Valmour Marchildon, 146 School Rd., Kenmore, N.Y., first assistant engineer.

—Stanley J. Sallawa, 40 Kimmel Ave., Buffalo, N.Y., chief cook.

—Norman Bragg, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

—Franklin C. Bussch, Buffalo, N.Y.

—John M. Groh, Erie, Pa.

Troy Trims Rate, Kayoes Pay Raises

TROY, N. Y. (AP) —Troy city councilmen, facing opposition to a proposed $4.28 boost in the city tax rate, trimmed the increase to $1.69 Wednesday night in adopting the 1967 city budget.

The councilmen cut the budget to $6,299,685, primarily by knocking out proposed pay raises for city employees.

The new tax rate is $37.37 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Plans are going forward for the special Advent program Dec. 11 at 4 p. m. Christmas Christian symbols for the Christmas tree and creches will be fashioned and discussed at this program.

Race Underway To Clear Seaway

MONTREAL (AP) — The annual race to clear the St. Lawrence Seaway is under way with the winners guaranteed a safe harbor and the losers—if any—faced with the possibility of spending an ice-bound winter.

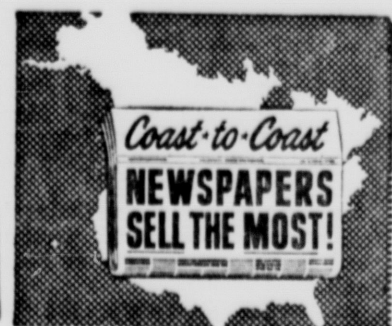

The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority of Canada and the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. of the United States Wednesday set Saturday for officially closing the Seaway from Montreal to Lake Ontario.

Shipping companies were told that beyond Saturday the canal would be kept open on a day-to-day basis and announcements for extensions would be made each day.

As of 1 p. m. Wednesday, there were 130 ships in the system.

Accused Blames Tension for Blank Mind on Robbery

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Werner Schenk, accused of a $25,000 armed bank holdup, contends his mind drew a partial blank on the day of the robbery because of tension built up over several weeks.

Schenk told a U.S. District Court jury Wednesday that the tension stemmed from a conflict he and his family had with his parents. He described his "parents' cool reaction to his new wife and their grandson" and said there were frequent arguments.

The 34-year-old computer specialist is charged with robbing two tellers of $25,000 at a branch of the Security Trust Co. in suburban Pittsford.

Schenk, who testified for more than five hours, said he had decided to "disappear or kill myself" in May after he learned that his parents were coming to Rochester from Germany for a visit.

He told the jury he recalled driving his automobile to Pittsford last July 29—the day of the robbery—but that he remembered only some events such as visiting a cigar store, driving his auto and later returning to his Xerox Corp. office.

He said the only knowledge he had of the robbery was what he read in the newspapers or heard from his friends.

In earlier testimony, the two tellers identified Schenk as the man who robbed them.

Schenk has been suspended from his Xerox post. He also faces robbery charges by the state.

1st Graders Give Citizenship Views

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—There's a big day ahead for Maria Evans, 6, so Sister Mary Ellen let her first-grade pupils at St. Frances Cabrini School talk about it.

The day is Dec. 22 when Maria, an adopted Korean war orphan, becomes an American citizen. What did the class think citizenship meant?

It means "not to throw trash in the streets," to "be kind to the whole world," to "share" and "to do nice work and not scribble."

To Maria it meant, "I can walk down the streets and say anything I want."

Denies Space Flights From Other Worlds

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Dr. Gerald Kuiper, who heads the University of Arizona Lunar and Planetary Laboratory, says there are no such things as space flights from other worlds.

During a discussion Wednesday before the Pima County Bar Association, he said unidentified flying objects are "simply unexplained reports."

"The sightings can be explained as meteors, comets, lightning bolts and other related natural occurrences," Kuiper said.

Scores Interpretations

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI today warned Roman Catholics against "arbitrary and offensive" interpretations of the Catholic faith made recently throughout the world.

Speaking at a general audience in St. Peter's, the Pope said that in these days "the faith is the target of many negations and controversies even among believers."

"Perhaps," he said, "echoes of erroneous opinions have reached you. These opinions dare to support arbitrary and offensive interpretations by holy truths of the Catholic faith."

The pontiff said that "voices spread throughout the world have been heard aimed at trying to deform fundamental doctrines clearly professed by the Church of God."

The Pope said these doctrines were the resurrection of Jesus, "the reality of His real presence in the Eucharist, and even the virginity of Mary and, as a consequence, the august mystery of the resurrection."

Scientists state that cells which make up the human body are the same for all people.

Helps Ratings But

Marilyn Monroe Special Is Termed As Vulgar Rehash

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At the outset of Wednesday night's "Legend of Marilyn Monroe" on ABC, John Huston, who directed her last film, read these florid sentences.

"Behind the grotesque sex goddess of the Hollywood glamour factory, the public recognized a more human figure — the game loser trying to beat the odds. But the real Marilyn forever remained shadowy and elusive, even to Marilyn."

Regaled With Clips

But for the next hour we were regaled with film clips, news-photos and personal recollections — even by her first husband — that traced Marilyn's short, unhappy life from a cruel childhood to the final days in 1962 when she lost her battle against mental illness.

The program was guilty of the very thing that Huston criticized as we saw a newsreel shot of a postling press conference at which the star's attorney announced the end of her marriage to Joe DiMaggio and Miss Monroe, silent and tearful, stood by.

"It," said Huston, meaning communications media, "will invade the last chamber of privacy, treat anguish as a charade, demand a quote from the deathbed."

Miss Monroe's fame, glamour and dramatic death probably will bolster the dreary ratings of ABC's "Stage 67" series, but the hour seemed at best a superficial and vulgar rehash of a tragedy.

McDowell Superb

NBC's Bob Hope Theatre, television's only other anthology series, deserves more attention than it gets. Wednesday night's "The Fatal Mistake" was the kind of murder tale — all very British — that one might have encountered in the good old "Alfred Hitchcock Hour." The story centered on a merry, boyish and very evil blackmailer who pushed one of his victims too far.

The poor victim, a man with a loving wife, pretty daughter, a dark secret and a convenient collection of reptiles, finally dispatched his tormenter with the help of a deadly adder. Of course, there was a surprise ending, since in television, crime is never allowed to pay.

Roddy McDowell was superb as the bad guy who brought roses and perfume to the family of his victim.

Zaretski Slates Meeting of Dem Senators on '67

NEW YORK (AP) — State Sen. Joseph Zaretski, who says he expects to be re-elected Senate minority leader by an overwhelming vote, called a meeting of Democratic senators here today, to get a pre-session vote on the minority leader for the 1967 legislative term.

U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and party leaders reportedly are backing the Manhattan senator's bid. Traditionally, legislators elect their leaders without consultation with their county chairmen or other party officials.

Zaretski said Wednesday he would win "by an overwhelming vote" despite a move by Sens. Manfred Chrenstein of Manhattan and Jack E. Bronston of Queens to unseat him.

"The most they will do is try to adjourn the caucus before an election is held," Zaretski said. "But a number of senators have called me to voice their support of me and their opposition to any delaying tactics by Chrenstein and Bronston."

The legislature convenes in January. When the Democrats controlled the Senate two years ago Bronston challenged Zaretski for the majority leadership post. A stalemate developed, but was broken when Republicans voted with Democrats supporting Zaretski.

Chrenstein and Bronston charge that Zaretski represents old-line Democrats and does not keep pace with changing times. "No one in the Legislature is more liberal-minded than I am," Zaretski retorted.

Asks Reapportion Plan Be Invoked for Erie

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A reapportionment plan for Erie County that was rejected Nov. 8 at the polls should still be put into effect by the State Supreme Court, the county attorney contends.

In asking the court to take such action Wednesday, Norman A. Stiller said the plan was carefully drawn and was close as practicable to the norm of population.

Stiller maintained that in view of the small number of persons who voted on Election Day and who voted 'no' for the plan, "it cannot be said that the people of the county of Erie rejected county proposition No. 1."

Only half of the residents who went to the polls voted on the plan, Stiller said, and it was defeated by a margin of less than one per cent.

The legal officer contended that the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court "intimates that if a redistricting plan is not approved in a referendum, the court appoint referees to devise and implement a new plan.

Five Given Bail In Niagara Falls, Nabbed in Raids

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Five persons arrested Wednesday in gambling raids on three business establishments by 25 State and City policemen are free on bail pending court hearings.

The raids came two weeks after the State Investigation Commission informed city officials to clean up gambling and stop illegal liquor sales or it would do it.

The charges ranged from possession of bookmaking records to fraudulently obtaining telephone service and malicious mischief.

Arrested were William A. Michaels, 50, proprietor of Michael's Novelty Shop; Bernard Wittstein, 56, who owns L & L Smoke Shop; Wittstein's wife, Leona, 56; Frank Muzzillo, 61, owner of Frank's Cigar Store and Edward Witkopp, 61, a clerk at Wittstein's shop.

Police confiscated betting slips and records, punch boards and television sets.

Released on $5,000 property bail each were Michaels and Wittstein. Bail for Mrs. Wittstein, Muzzillo, and Witkopp was set at $1,000 each.

DAY OF INFAMY

Times have changed. The enemy of a quarter-century ago is now a valued ally. A new generation has grown up for whom the shattering event is almost ancient history. Yet the day President Roosevelt declared would live in infamy still has meaning. No longer vengeance, it is the constant reminder that power carries with it responsibilities and perils, and that the price of liberty is indeed eternal vigilance.

The battleship Arizona settles in flames at Pearl Harbor on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941. In a captured photograph, right, crewmen cheer the departure of attack planes from a carrier of the Imperial Japanese Navy. Inset shows a Japanese pilot's view of the attack on Ford Island, with American capital ships berthed along battleship row at top.

Map shows location at time of attack of the major ships sunk or damaged—the battleships Arizona, Oklahoma, California, Nevada, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Tennessee; cruisers Helena, Honolulu and Raleigh, and destroyers Shaw, Cassin and Downes.

The attackers also suffered losses. The Japanese Zero, left, was one of many downed by antiaircraft fire or in dogfights. But it was a small price for the damage, right, inflicted on American Pacific power: 19 warships sunk or damaged; 247 planes destroyed or damaged; 3,303 American servicemen killed.

Continue Talks To Delay Strike At Pan American

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations worked again today to head off a strike threatened for noon Friday against Pan American World Airways after a federal mediator called the latest 15-hour bargaining session "most frustrating."

A strike by 13,000 members of the Transport Workers Union who service Pan Am's planes would mean suspension of the line's international flight schedule and a possible halt in its government chartered personnel airlift to Viet Nam.

The dispute centers around a 15 per cent wage increase over 2½ years recommended by a presidential conference board Nov. 1. The union feels improvements could be made in the report, while Pan Am has argued the cost formula would provide the employees with salaries and benefits "unsurpassed in the industry." The present maximum rate for a mechanic is $3.59 an hour. The presidential board's recommendations would amount to an additional 53 cents an hour.

Kripplebush

KRIPPLEBUSH — A Christmas musical program will be given at the Kripplebush Methodist Church Sunday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p. m., by members of the church school.

Educational supplies such as paper, books, crayons, scissors and the like are being collected for needy children.

The WSCS Christmas party will be held in the church school rooms Monday, Dec. 5 at 8 p. m. Secret pals of the last year will be revealed.

Edward Redelberger and Carl Miller who are attending the State University College at Albany spent the Thanksgiving weekend at their homes here.

Mrs. Uriah Conner is spending a few days with friends at Fish's Eddy.

The Thimble Club will have its Christmas party and luncheon at Leher's Restaurant in Kingston Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 12 noon.

Church services at the Methodist Church are held 8:45 a. m. every Sunday with the Rev. Bruce Carlson in charge. Sunday school meets 10 a. m.

The highest and lowest points in continental U.S. are only 85 miles apart.

DISTRIBUTE LITTER BAGS—The Kingston Area Financial Council, composed of commercial banks, savings banks and savings and loan associations, has started distribution of convenient, vinyl litter bags for use in automobiles. The litter bags, free of charge, are part of the clean-up program outlined by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Other phases of area clean up and beautification are under consideration now. Receiving the first litter bags are (l-r) George Svirsky, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; Richard Kalish, chairman of the chamber's community services committee; George Rusk, president of Kingston Trust Company and Alfred D. Ronder, president of the financial council. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr)

Probe All Cases To Determine If Illegal Tap Used

By STEPHEN M. AUG
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is investigating all cases it has prosecuted — and those headed for court — to make certain no evidence on which they are based was obtained by electronic eavesdropping.

The review could go back to early days of bugging devices — but department officials could not say how many years or how many cases might be involved.

Announce Probe
The department announced the investigation in a supplemental memorandum filed in the Supreme Court Wednesday night in the case of Joseph F. Schinagl, convicted of income tax evasion.

Acting Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark also disclosed in the memorandum that he sent all U.S. attorneys a notice Nov. 3 warning they "must never proceed with any investigation or case which includes evidence illegally obtained or the fruits of that evidence."

The memorandum said that if any material discovery is made during its review of cases the government will "promptly notify the appropriate court."

The government also made public a motion it filed several days ago with the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Monitored Talks
There, the government said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had monitored the conversations of three defendants who were convicted, but said the material obtained was not part of the evidence against them.

That case involved Frank Deniro Jr., Michael Deniro and Louis Deniro, convicted of conspiring to defraud the government and attempting to defeat an estate tax.

A department spokesman estimated the chances at "one in a thousand" that cases already tried would be reopened for reason of illegal bugging.

The spokesman did not say when the review began, but said it started "because this problem had arisen in a case or two — and the department wanted to find out whether other cases were affected."

Says Nation Needs Patriotic Rebirth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen says what this country needs is a patriotic rebirth.

Dirksen, 70, ruminated at a press conference Wednesday to mark the issuance of a record he made on American history.

"All I hope," the Senate Republican leader said, "is that I can make a contribution to the tranquility of my own blessed land."

Dirksen said he made a tape recording last year, reciting "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and among other things, a piece he wrote titled "Viet Nam and Flanders Field."

The tape turned into a record, with appropriate musical background.

One of the numbers, "Gallant Men," already is being played by radio stations in the Washington area.

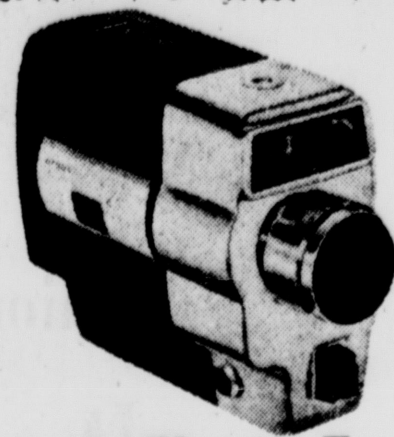

There have been reports that he intended to give whatever money he made to charity. Asked about it Wednesday, Dirksen replied that he and his wife had been giving to charity for a long time, and "we always do it privately; we never discuss it in public."

Longest Cable

World's longest span of under-sea cable, stretching 3,600 miles from Tuckerton, N. J., to St. Hilaire-de-Riez, France, was placed in service in 1965. It can handle 128 simultaneous conversations.

Snyder Reviews Tree Planting By Rotary Club

A feature of the Rotary Club assembly program Wednesday was a review of the Rotary tree planting ceremony at the City Hall by Frederic Snyder.

He urged the board of directors to have one tree to honor the memory of Harry L. Edson, venerable secretary, and one for Arthur Carr, last living charter member.

He also presented for the first time the proposal to change the name of Rotary International to Rotary Universal. Rotarian Snyder now is serving on a special commission to present this suggestion to the legislative body of Rotary.

The idea was originated by Dr. Wilbur N. Baughman, distinguished scientist of Maryland.

Snyder spoke in part as follows:

The Rotary tree was planted in Chicago Feb. 23, 1905 and we now observe branches in 133 countries, recording 12,519 clubs served by 600,000 Rotarians. Rotary wears the crown of seniority in the service club movement originated by Paul Harris of Chicago.

From Aabernma in Denmark in the Netherlands, we have the A to Z Rotary director. It reveals the membership of kings, presidents of nations, astronauts, men of power in all of the professions. The earth rotates but this does not make men Rotarians. They become such when they realize that God is good and they pledge to become a functional part of that goodness. Rotary presents vivid proof that it can thrive under war conditions, for underneath are the eternal verities.

Rotary Application

Rotary is the big wheel among service clubs. As we turn the wheel of memory, we observe scholarships provided, crippled children aided, scout structures financed, funds applied to humane projects and a hospital memorial to Harry (Pop) Edson, one time head of the recreation department of the city and the venerable secretary of the Rotary Club, Col. George F. Chandler, a charter member and nationally known founder of the New York State Police, has been honored by the official naming of the George F. Chandler driveway. A Rotary project.

A living spectacular part of Rotary history is revealed in the growth of whole forests in many lands. Rotary urges that when one tree goes down in Kingston, that two trees speedily go up.

The language of trees speak to us of the fact that leaves and fruit are visible. The vital roots remain out of view. Just so in the history of the Kingston Rotary Club. Some activities are easily discerned. It is not possible to inventory and reveal the deeply rooted ideas and inspirations gained in the 52 meetings of the year, marked by the conversational fellowship of sharing and guided by programs of definite purpose.

The entire city should act as trustees, guarding the growth of these trees in place today. It is one way to commend the Rotary Club for a half century of creative citizenship. To nourish Kingston's pride—Rotary must abide.

The Rev. Edwin C. Coon, vice president, closed the meeting with a review of the script for the Community Chest program Saturday. Rotarian Coon will be master of ceremonies for the half-hour program.

Join Peace Corps

NEW YORK (AP) — Two members of two of America's best known families will begin work Monday in a Harlem anti-poverty project. They'll live in the community too.

They are Laurance Rockefeller, 22, son of Laurance S. Rockefeller and a nephew of the New York governor and the Arkansas governor-elect, and Tweed Roosevelt, 24, a great-grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt.

They will be assigned to individual blocks after undergoing training and will receive $12.50 a week as a stipend from the domestic Peace Corps.

Roosevelt is the son of Archibald B. Roosevelt Jr., a foreign service officer.

To Improve Prisons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is reorganizing its Bureau of Prisons, aiming at improving rehabilitation of convicts.

President Johnson said in Austin, Tex., Wednesday that he is concerned about the high rate of crime among exconvicts.

A division of community service will be created to administer a recently established work release program. A new division of institutional service will direct prison programs such as education, vocational training, recreation and religion.

Under the work release program, established in 1965, more than 1,400 prisoners have been allowed to leave prison for jobs or schooling, returning to confinement each night.

The object is to help the prisoner adjust for eventual freedom. The community service division also will be responsible for prerelease guidance centers, nicknamed halfway houses, where inmates on the verge of release are helped to establish themselves in the community.

Good Moon Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first closeup pictures of the prominent moon crater Copernicus make it look like a spot where the posse chases the bandits in Western movies.

The crater shows up as a rough and barren desert in strikingly clear photographs taken by Lunar Orbiter 2 Nov. 23.

Mountains rise up 1,000 feet from the flat floor of the center of the crater, and they have slopes of up to 30 degrees. Cliffs on the crater's rim are 1,000 feet high.

The crater is 60 miles across, two miles deep and is seen from earth in the upper left quarter of the moon.

The spacecraft was 28½ miles above the moon's surface and 150 miles south of the center of the crater when it shot the pictures.

Capital Footnotes

The State Department is stepping up its precautions to make sure new U.S. government buildings abroad are not bugged.

An FBI survey of police chiefs shows the officers rate lack of public support as the No. 1 police problem.

A nationwide Civil Defense exercise to test alerting and damage assessment procedures in case of nuclear attack is under way in 48 states.

The Treasury plans to mint a record 9.5 billion coins this year.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Two decades after the end of World War II, many of Europe's art treasures continue to be missing. Paintings, sculpture, rare books, ancient coins and many other items were either plundered, lost or destroyed during the war. The value of these irreplaceable works is more than half a billion dollars, says The World Almanac. Belgium alone is still missing 1,400 paintings. Many agencies, both private and governmental, crisscross Europe and even range as far as the United States in search of the looted art.

Lemmon Forms Own Company For Film Making

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A fellow has to look after himself in the movie business, and that's why Jack Lemmon has formed his own company, Jalem Productions.

During the first dozen years of his film career, the Harvard-educated actor placed his destiny in the hands of other producers. The results were often good — one Oscar, supporting actor, "Mister Roberts," 1955; and four nominations as star, "Some Like It Hot," "The Apartment," "Days of Wine and Roses," "Irma la Douce."

But in between those milestones were other films which did little to enhance the Lemmon image, though most were financially successful. He found himself cast as a satyr — "Under the Yum Yum Tree" — or as the man who sacrifices his principles to go along with the system — "The Fortune Cookie."

Now Jalem has joined with producer Martin Manulis for the film version of Murray Shisgal's far-out comedy play, "Luv."

"It's wild," Lemmon reports. "The wildest part I've ever played."

His appearance bore this out. His hair was unkempt, his cheeks hollow — he dropped 25 pounds to 140 for the role. He wore baggy pajamas, a shabby robe and sneakers that looked like Howard Hughes discards. He plays one of life's losers, a would-be suicide.

Taking Big Chance

"I'm taking a big chance on this role," Lemmon declared as he puffed on a cigar stub. "The guy goes against all comedy principles: he feels sorry for himself."

"That's a dangerous thing to do with a audience; people immediately lose sympathy with a character who feels sorry for himself. The greatness of Chaplin was that he always played the underdog but he never was beaten."

"Even when he was starving, he remained indomitable. Instead of becoming defeated, he figured out how he could make a meal out of his shoe."

Ten years ago . . . President Eisenhower increased from the original 5,000 to 21,500, the number of Hungarian refugees to be admitted into the United States.

Five years ago . . . The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation announced that the nation's 13,100 commercial banks would be permitted to pay higher interest rates on savings deposits effective Jan. 1, 1962. The new maximum rate for savings deposits and time deposits of six months or more would be three and a half per cent and on deposits left in the bank one year or more it would be four per cent.

One year ago . . . Delayed by minor mechanical troubles and red tape, the first plane load of Cuban refugees arrived at Miami, Fla., at the start of the U.S. Cuban refugee airlift.

Java Center Boy Shot to Death in Hunting Mishap

JAVA CENTER, N.Y. (AP)—Brian Heckathorn, 17, of Java Center, was shot to death Wednesday when, authorities said, a shotgun, carried by a hunting companion, accidentally discharged near this Wyoming County community.

Brian was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Heckathorn and the oldest of 11 children.

Sheriff's deputies said his companion, Norman Kibler, 19, also of Java Center, told them he and Brian were loading their shotguns as they walked in nearby woods.

Norman said his weapon accidentally discharged. The shot struck Brian in the thigh, severing an artery.

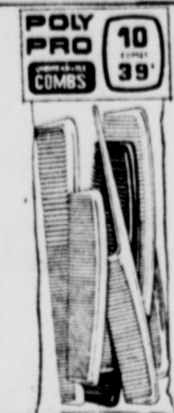

Brian's address was 146 Main Road. Norman also lives on Main Road.

Thomas Elected New President Of Ulster Hose

The annual election of administrative officers of Ulster Hose No. 5, Town of Ulster, was held at the Nov. 28 meeting. At that time it was the unanimous decision of the members to elect LeRoy Thomas Sr., as the new president of the company.

Katrine Resident

Thomas, father of two sons and four daughters, resides in Lake Katrine with his wife and two daughters at home. He has been employed by the Herzog Plumbing and Hardware store for the past 15 years as a retail clerk. He has been a member of Ulster Hose No. 5, for the past 18 years, holding the fireman's office of first lieutenant for three years and for the past eight years has served in the office of recording secretary. Thomas serves as a first lieutenant with the Ulster County Fire Police. He succeeds President Harry Lowe, who held the office of president for three years. Due to business pressure, Mr. Lowe declined reelection.

Other Officers Elected

Vernon Lewis, vice president; Joseph Kelly, recording secretary; Gary Swanson, financial secretary; Gerald Woodvine, a charter member was reelected for his 20th consecutive term as treasurer. Thomas Davis was elected sergeant-at-arms and Donald Crispino was reelected parade marshal.

Elected fireman's officers at the November 14 meeting to serve for the year 1967 were the following:

Edward Fishang, fire chief, to succeed Hilary Schults; William Williams Jr., assistant chief for his second term; Charles Crespinio, captain for his second term; Alwyn Auchmoody, first lieutenant; Raymond Jackson, second lieutenant and James Williams, third lieutenant.

It was also noted at the annual meeting that the following members are serving as members of the board of directors.

William Harbig Sr., Orville Klomps, Robert Metschner, Gordon Corey, Nick Valenzano and Emil Wieland.

Fire Commissioners serving Ulster Hose No. 5, Fire District are:

Santa's Tour Dec. 10

It was also announced at the annual meeting that the company has 19 active committees working with the Christmas Cheer Committee under the chairmanship of Charles Crespinio. The chairman announced that Santa Claus will make his annual tour of the fire district Saturday, Dec. 10, starting at 9 a. m. from the Kingston City line at Wrentham Street. He will work his way north to the Saugerties township line. Free gifts will be distributed to the children who will be waiting for Santa.

Plans are now under way for the 25th anniversary of Ulster Hose No. 5. Elaborate plans are being made for the observance of this event which will be open to the residents of the Fire District.

127 Members

The company continues to grow with a membership of 127 and a fire expansion program with the new fire station near Glenrie Park nearing completion. The new fire house, located on Route 9W will serve the northerly area of the fire district. A committee is compiling facts for a Historical Date Book of the company which will be available for the 25th anniversary date which will be announced later.

Company Praised

A letter was read at the meeting from Supervisor Thaddeus Musialkiewicz commending the officers and members of the fire company for their ability in handling the fire in a truck transporting propane gas at the Terwilliger Brothers plant on Albany Avenue Extension. Prompt action by the company prevented a major fire and possibly an explosion. A letter was also received and read from the Ritter Trucking Company expressing thanks for a fine handling of the situation by the members of the fire company.

4.89-Inch Rainfall

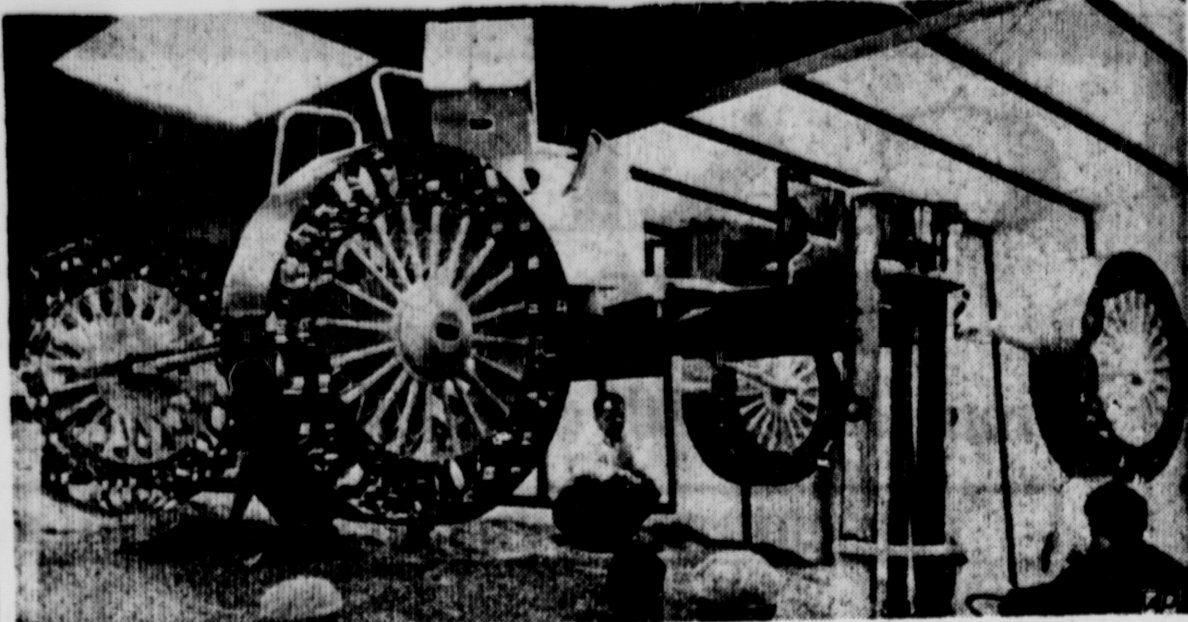

A November rainfall of 4.89 inches was reported in the area of Cooper Lake, the city's main reservoir. Kingston's city engineer's office reported a total of 2.91 inches for the month. The November total at the reservoir was 2.08 inches above that in October. A total of 4.99 inches during last month was reported in the Mink Hollow watershed. Cooper Lake, reported at full storage at about mid-month, remains at capacity.

Two Are Fined

Thomas Doyle, 33, of 71 Lafayette Avenue, charged with driving an uninsured vehicle, was fined $10 in city court today. Timothy J. Mellert, 18, of 11 Park Drive, Woodstock, booked for making unnecessary noise with a vehicle, paid $10 Wednesday.

CABLEVISION

Salutes Community Chest see the Community Chest Radio/Videothon on Cablevision Channel 10, Saturday, Dec. 3. Cablevision will donate to the Community Chest one-half of the amount of installation charges on new subscribers (within 200 feet of existing cable) whose applications are made up to midnight, Dec. 3.

LUNAR SURVEY MODULE — A working model of the Local Scientific Survey Module (LSSM), a vehicle designed for moon research by Bendix Corp., for NASA, is unveiled at the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics meeting at War Memorial Auditorium in Boston. Unity Is Theme Of Democrats for Travia at Helm

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Democratic party unity was the theme today as U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy agreed to lend his presence to rededication of Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia to the top leadership post in the Legislature.

Kennedy, State Chairman John Burns and State Comptroller Arthur Levitt all accepted Travia's invitation to be on hand for his informal election to a new, two-year term as speaker.

Stringent to Nominate

Assemblyman Stanley Steingut, who once contested bitterly with his Brooklyn colleague for the speaker's job, agreed to nominate Travia at a closed caucus of the 80-member Democratic majority. A unanimous vote was expected.

Kennedy, Burns and Levitt were invited to attend a private dinner of the Assembly majority at an Albany hotel. Kennedy underscored his support by sponsoring a reception before the dinner in honor of Travia, 55.

Meanwhile, at a separate meeting, in New York City the leader, Joseph Zaretzki of Manhattan, also was assured of rededication to his leadership post, for a two-year term.

Earlier this week, two Democratic senators, Jack E. Bronston of Queens and Manfred Ohrenstein of Manhattan, indicated they would seek to displace the 66-year-old Zaretzki to give a new look to the Democratic leadership.

May Abandon Move

But the Bronston - Ohrenstein effort attracted little support and they were reported planning to abandon their "dump Zaretzki" move.

Bronston had formed an alliance with Steingut in the 1965 Legislature in an attempt to win the Democratic leadership posts for themselves. At that time, their party had majority control of both houses.

They had support from a substantial bloc of Democratic legislators and from William H. McKeon, the state chairman at the time. They also were said to have had tacit backing from the Kennedy.

But the Steingut-Bronston effort failed when Republicans sided with Travia and Zaretzki, and the two leaders were re-elected in 1966 without opposition. Travia, meanwhile, was

Baptie Services Held

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Services were held today for Norval Baptie, 87, once one of the nation's foremost professional ice skaters. He died Saturday.

The native of Bethany, Ont., was named with Sonja Henie to the first two places in the United States ice skating hall of fame in 1963.

Although he had both legs amputated in later years because of diabetes, Baptie remained close to the sport he loved by teaching youngsters as he sat near rinks in a wheelchair.

By 1899, Baptie had defeated many of the world's top professional racers and had set 10 world records including the speed record. He was defeated only once during his long career as a speed skater.

700,000 Wait Airlift Brings Close to 50,000 Cubans to U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Nearly 50,000 Cubans have streamed into the United States by a refugee airlift inaugurated a year ago today, and no end is in sight.

Planes loaded with emigres from Fidel Castro's Communist regime land twice each week-day at Miami International Airport.

More than 700,000 Cubans for whom applications have been filed are awaiting their turn to come, U.S. officials say. At the present rate, it would take 15 years to complete this migration. Refugees arriving by the sky shuttle say millions would come if they could.

At Freedom House, where refugees live while awaiting transportation to new homes throughout the United States, the topic turned to those left behind in Cuba.

A telephone worker, Jose Antonio Grande, heading with his family for West New York, N.J., said, "Cuba would be left empty if all were permitted to leave."

The Cuban refugee center reported that two-thirds of the newcomers have gone to communities other than Miami, and are self-supporting. The others join Miami's exile colony of nearly 150,000. The nation's Cuban exile population is estimated at 350,000.

The United States picks up the airlift tab, figured by government officials at $750 per flight. At that rate, the year's 508 landings — no planes came during hurricanes — cost $381,000. The entire refugee program costs the government $1 million weekly.

Fire in Sofa

A house occupied by Mrs. Patricia Kilmer and family at 50 Hurley Avenue was damaged by fire early today. Firemen said the blaze started in a sofa and extended to a nearby chair in the first-floor living room of the two-story, brick house. An attempt had been made to douse the fire with a pail of water before firemen arrived. Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations, the Wicks and Excelsior companies answered a telephone call at 3:45 a. m. A pump stream was used and there was smoke and water damage in other areas of the house. Chief James M. Brett and Capt. Robert W. Hardwick were in charge, and a cigarette was listed as the probable cause of the blaze.

Temple Emanuel

Regular Sabbath services will be held at Temple Emanuel Friday 7:45 p. m. Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn will preach on Joseph in Egypt, based on this week's Torah portion. He will relate the story of Joseph to the recent Israeli-Jordanian crisis. Gordon Bush, Temple organist and the newly organized Temple choir will assist in the service. Following the service an Oneg Shabbat will be held as usual. The refreshments will be supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pizik in honor of the recent Bar Mitzvah of their son, Lawrence.

During Memorial services, the memories of the following persons will be invoked: Birdie Blankfield, Louis Cohn, Carrie Ehrensaal, Rachel Katz, Eli Marine, David Newland, David Weil and Rabbi David Wolff.

Saturday from 12:15 to 1:15 p. m. the monthly religious school teachers meeting will be held. Parents of children attending the Religious School are always welcome at these informational meetings.

Sunday 10 a. m. the Temple Brotherhood will hold a special breakfast meeting. Henry Gould an outstanding speaker who travels all over the country talking to Temple Brotherhoods will be the main speaker. The men of the Temple may attend and bring guests.

Thursday, Dec. 8, Rabbi Eichhorn will be guest speaker at Temple Beth Jacob, Newburgh. He will talk on the Mission of Judaism to the adult study group there.

The religious school Chanukah party will be held Sunday, Dec. 11, from 2 to 4 p. m. John O'Leary, noted square dance caller will conduct a special program for the children. There will be Israeli dancing, gifts and refreshments. Parents may attend with their children.

Ahavath Israel

The late Friday evening services at Ahavath Israel on Dec. 2 will be held at 8 p. m., and will be conducted by members of the USY chapter, the youth organization of the congregation. The entire liturgy will be chanted by the boys and girls, the prayers will be read by them, and the sermon period will be used for an introduction to the theme that will be discussed at the Oneg Shabbat.

Those taking part in the services are Bonnie Brett, Barbara Bush, Cathy Cohen, Jay Cohen, the Federman Sisters, Sharon Fischweicher, Candy Harding, Richard Johnson, Andrea Propp, Eileen Rafalowsky, Davida Rosenbaum, Ann Scher, Mitchell Small, Sharon Treinkman and others.

The sermon will be based on the situation in Russia as regards the Jewish religion, and a discussion on the subject will be opened at the Oneg Shabbat that will follow in the vestry hall. The hostesses at the Oneg Shabbat will be Mrs. Rubin Fischweicher and Mrs. Paul Johnson, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Larry Jacobs.

Religious services on Saturday will begin at 9 a. m., with the main service starting at 9:30. The Bible reading this Sabbath is the narration of the early life of Joseph, the son of the Patriarch Jacob. The reading will be summarized by Rabbi Schneetman.

The junior congregation will meet at 10:30 a. m. in the vestry hall chapel for religious services for all boys and girls of Hebrew school age. These services are under the direction of Bruce Diamond.

Thursday evening, Dec. 1, the Sisterhood of the congregation is sponsoring a fashion show, demonstrating the latest fashions from a most famous fashion designer from Israel.

The USY will hold its regular meeting and social Sunday, Dec. 3, at 7 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rafalowsky.

The adult education class in Comparative Religion meets every Tuesday 8:15 p. m. in the vestry hall. The class is now on the subject of Lutheranism.

The festival of Chanukah will begin on Wednesday evening, Dec. 7, with the kindling of the first of eight candles. The festival lasts for eight days. At the Talmud Torah of Kingston regular classes will be held during this season, but the spirit of Chanukah will be made manifest by parties and entertaining sessions. An assembly program will be held for the entire school Tuesday, when gifts in the Chanukah spirit will be presented to all children.

Preparations are now in the process of being made for the many coming events connected with the opening of the new Ahavath Israel building which will take place in the near future.

Protest Poor Food

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Some Utica College students have rewritten slightly the old saying that the quickest way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

More than 300 students apparently reasoned Wednesday night that the quickest way to dramatize a complaint about food is through a garbage can.

And that is what they did when they dumped their food-filled trays into trash buckets in protest of what they termed "poor quality food while the college makes a profit."

Dean Kenneth Donahue said that it was possible that some of the student complaints "need to be rectified," but added that the college did not make a large profit on food.

The incident occurred in the Streble Center Cafeteria, where the majority of the college's 425 resident students take their meals.

From Sublime TO RIDICULOUS

is how the subject matter runs in prize-winning efforts of photographers during 1966. Exactly what makes a great photograph is hard to define. But these examples, all award winners selected for inclusion in "Photography Annual 1967," show that at least one thing is certain—anything goes when it comes to suitable subjects.

◀ A fluttering study in sharply contrasting black and white was captured by the camera of Walter Vogel at the Spanish National Circus.

Esopus

ESOPUS — The annual children's Christmas party sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Esopus Fire Department will be held in the firehouse Friday, Dec. 16, starting 7 p. m. Santa Claus will be on hand for the festivities. Children up to nine years of age may attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Loughlin are the parents of a son, Francis X. born at Benedictine Hospital.

Sunday services at the Methodist Church will be held 10:30 a. m. Sunday school for the children meets 9:30 a. m.

Sunday Masses at Sacred Heart Church will be 8, 9, 10 and 11 a. m. Holy Mass on the first Friday of December will be 5:30 p. m. Mass Saturday is at 8 a. m. Perpetual Help Novena prayers will be said before Mass.

Reports Injuries

Rita M. Senor, 52, of 616 Kiersted Avenue, one of two drivers in a mishap at Clinton Avenue and Henry Street at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, reported back, neck and chest injuries and was treated at Kingston Hospital. The other car was driven by Joan P. Yochmann, of Robin Lane. Police said a red light at the intersection was not operating at the time. Officers Anthony Turck and Weston Hoffay investigated.

X-ray Examinations

It has been estimated that one of every two persons in the United States will have had at least one X-ray examination or treatment before the end of 1966.

Memory Trees Are Not Limited to Society Members

The Saugerties Society of Little Gardens Memory Trees are at the C. A. Lynch Hose Co. on Hill Street and at the Ellen Russell Finger Home at the corner of Ulster Avenue and Market Street. These trees are lighted with bulbs placed on them in memory of loved ones and friends. This is not limited to Garden Club members.

All who wish to place a bulb on these trees may do so by leaving at Beadles Pharmacy on Main Street, their name, the names of the persons for whom the light is placed on the tree together with a small cost for each name; or by calling one of the committee: Mrs. John Whittle, Mrs. Miss Jane Ziegler, Mrs. K. Beadle, Mrs. August Fellow, Mrs. Robert Finger, Mrs. Daniel Lamb.

Following is a partial list of donors and those remembered: Mrs. Robert Payne by Mrs. Philip Crank; Hans van Lengen by Nellie P. Evans; Alexander McKinlay by Mrs. R. W. Brownie Troop Has Investiture

Brownie Troop 109, led by Mrs. Jeanne Elias and Mrs. Frances Moore, held its investiture program at Saugerties Methodist Church Nov. 21.

The following girls received their World Association Pins and their Brownie Pins: Patricia Connor, Susan Elias, Jeanne Dvorak, Kathy Gardner, Deborah Glover, Karen Leupert, Lynn Rosenblum, Patricia Wagner.

Girls who had been in the troop for one year received membership stars: Lois Cadmus, Deirdre Canaday, Megan Erhmann, Laura Elias, Karen Glover, Cindy Goodwin, Debra Hutter, Betsy Lawless, Mari Kim Moore, Kathy Murphy, Margaret Wagner, Debra Warters.

The girls have tried to be particularly mindful of their Brownie Promise "... to help others everyday." During October they donated their outgrown clothing to needy persons; in November they presented the needy with food; and now in December, they will share their old toys with the children in Wassau State Hospital. Instead of a Christmas Party of games and awards, Brownies hope to go caroling to shut-ins in town. The Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts is a member agency of the Community Chest.

Columbia U Will Also Quit Staff Plan at Bellevue

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons has announced it will end its 150-year-old association with Bellevue Hospital, following by one month a similar announcement by Cornell University's Medical College.

The two schools supply about 100 of 300 internes and residents on the hospital's medical staff. New York University, the third school which staffs the 2,500-bed city hospital, announced Wednesday it will recruit additional staff.

Was Great Strength

Dr. Randolph A. Wyman, the hospital administrator, said: "One of the great strengths of Bellevue was the intramural competition between three medical schools." Patient care improved, he said, because of "the checks and balances of different disciplines as interpreted by each school."

But Hospitals Commissioner Joseph V. Terenzio said, "By ending divided responsibilities and making a major school fully responsible for the quality of care, we can do a better job for all of the patient's concerned."

Wyman predicted difficulty in replacing the internes and residents scheduled to leave next year according to Columbia's announcement Wednesday.

Columbia officials said they were withdrawing because a new Bellevue, now under construction, would have only 1,700 beds and not be able to provide teaching experience for two schools.

Was Depressed

"I'm depressed, but I see no alternative," said Dr. Charles Ragan, chief of Columbia's medical service at Bellevue.

"With the plan to lower the bed capacity of Bellevue, there'll be no place for two schools."

All parties said the move was made by mutual consent. The city asked Cornell to leave. Columbia also announced it would expand its association with Harlem, Delafield and Goldwater city hospitals.

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

WHEN INVITATION READS "AND FAMILY"

Dear Mrs. Post: I am 18 years old and have been dating my boy friend for two years. His family received an invitation to a cousin's wedding, addressed Mr. and Mrs. John Doe and Family. His brothers do not plan to attend the wedding, so his mother replied to the invitation saying that four would attend—his parents, my boy friend and me. I feel I was not formally invited and I am uneasy about attending. Also, if I go, I would be required to bring a gift and, since I do not know the bride, I don't really want to incur that expense. What should I do? Maria.

Dear Maria: Since you are not a member of the family, you really have no right to attend the wedding, even to take someone else's place. Nor do I see any reason, since you do not know the bride, that you should send a gift. You do not say that you are engaged, so it would not be strictly proper to join with your boy friend in sending a present.

My advice is to skip the whole thing—tell your boy friend to go with his parents and make other plans for the day.

Bad Breath Bothers Church-Goor

Dear Mrs. Post: The past three Sundays at church I sat beside people who had offensive breaths. What should one do when a person breathes into your face and it is almost more than one can stand? Edna.

Dear Edna: To make oneself attractive to others is surely one of the important reasons for observing rules of etiquette, and personal cleanliness is essential to being attractive. Unfortunately, people are usually unaware that their breath is offensive and there is very little the unfortunate object of their attention can do. It is unforgivable, except among most intimate friends or family, to make personal criticisms, so the only solution is to keep your face turned away as much as possible.

I can only suggest that people going to public places, or on public transportation, avoid those foods most obviously objectionable, such as onions and garlic, and that everyone follow recommended procedures of oral hygiene—frequent use of tooth brushes, mouth wash, etc.

"How to Plan and Budget Your Wedding" By Elizabeth L. Post, is now available to readers of this paper. Ideal for brides-to-be, their fiancés and parents, this sixteen page booklet will help in preparing for the "perfect" wedding. To get a copy, send twenty-five cents in coin to cover booklet and shipping expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this paper.

Interior Department Says New Rules May Aid Fish Industry

The Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries said today there is mixed reaction in the commercial fishing industry of the United States to the easing of the Catholic Church's law of abstinence.

Some industry representatives have expressed apprehension, while others feel that the long term effect of removing fish from the category of a "Friday only" food could be beneficial.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said the recent announcement by the United States Bishops has already produced an increased awareness that the industry needs a more vigorous promotion of fishery products as everyday foods.

"Some industry representatives feel the announcement will mean increased competition for the consumer's food dollar," Secretary Udall said. "Others see it as an opportunity to promote fishery products as a main dish on additional days of the week."

H. E. Crowther, Acting Director of the Bureau commented: "A large part of the effort of our fishing industry is now focused on distribution of its products for Friday consumption. Landing and processing of fresh fish are currently geared almost exclusively toward this end. The Bishops' announcement may serve as a catalyst to revise our efforts in merchandising, marketing and promotion."

"In this connection we have seen widespread acceptance of lobster, shrimp and tuna as everyday foods, as reflected in a rising per capita consumption of these species. We hope that in the future similar gains will be made for other wholesome, healthful, and nourishing fishery products."

DR. WALTER J. GEIGER, a 10 year resident of Poughkeepsie, has been appointed a Columbia University Campaign Fund Chairman, it was announced today by Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of the University. Dr. Geiger, a 1917 graduate of Columbia College and a 1918 graduate of the University's School of Dental and Oral Surgery, will coordinate fund raising activities in the Dutchess County area during the University-wide campaign which will last approximately three years.

Catherine Boyle, Stephen Baran Jr. Take Marriage Vows

Miss Catherine Ann Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Boyle of Saugerties and New Rochelle, was married to Stephen William Baran Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Baran Sr., of Saugerties, on Saturday, Nov. 26. The Rev. Joseph Keating officiated at the 1:30 p. m. ceremony performed in St. Joseph's Church in Kingston.

The bride was attired in a pale shrimp wool suit with white crepe blouse and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white baby roses decorated with seed pearls.

Mary Margaret Boyle, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and Michael P. Mulhearn, cousin of the bride, served as best man. The bride was graduated from St. Gabriel's Elementary School in New Rochelle, and attended Maria Regina High School in Hartsdale, and New Rochelle High School. Her husband is a graduate of St. Mary of the Snow School in Saugerties, and Saugerties High School. He is employed by IBM in Kingston.

After the ceremony, a reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Mary A. Smith of Avon Street, Saugerties.

After returning from their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Saugerties.

Ulster Board Member In Senior Seminar

A STAR RETURNS — Sylvia Sidney, the beautiful stage and screen actress, will appear in the Broadway hit comedy "Barefoot in the Park" when it arrives on the stage of the Community Theatre, Kingston, for a single performance on Tuesday, Dec. 6.

Sylvia Sidney, An Accomplished Cook, Says She Doesn't Know What's in Poofla Pie

When stage and screen star Sylvia Sidney comes to the stage of the Community Theatre, Kingston, on Tuesday evening in the Broadway comedy hit, "Barefoot in the Park," she will be definitely "playing against type." For her stage role is that of a timid widow with a delicate stomach and a horror of trying unusual foods. In real life she is a reckless adventurer with a taste for cooking and eating the most unusual and exotic dishes that she can find in foreign cookbooks.

Though she likes good, standard American food, she learned in her childhood in New York to enjoy many foreign specialties from being taken by her parents on outings to some of the French, German, Italian, Spanish and Greek restaurants that abound in the metropolis, along with even a few Swedish, Armenian and Pakistani dining places. Challenged by their specialties, when she grew up and acquired a kitchen of her own, she acquired enough foreign recipe books to fill a shelf—and then went on to invent a notebookful of her own.

Oddly, her explorations into foreign cuisines never brought her to poofla-pie, knichi and other delicacies from Albania, but her part of the unadventurous Mrs. Banks in "Barefoot in the Park" has done that.

In her personal life, Sylvia Sidney would never hesitate—as does the timorous Mrs. Banks she portrays in the comedy—to try the canapes called knichis that are offered her by a gourmet-neighbor at her newly-married daughter's first party. Mrs. Banks pales comically when the epicure brings in a hot pan of mysterious-looking little grey balls, looks at his watch and says, "We have just thirty seconds until they're edible," then ceremoniously removes the lid and says, "And—the last fifteen seconds we just let them sit there and breathe." Then he says, "Now! The time element is essential, for the main ingredient spoils quickly."

In this hilarious scene, this warning makes Mrs. Banks even more queasy. She timidly asks what the main ingredient is. The disclosure makes the little grey spheres seem to Mrs. Banks even less inviting than before.

Miss Sidney says this ingredient is a fish rarely eaten by Americans, but she won't tell what fish it is. "You have to come to see 'Barefoot' to find out," she says. Can it be whale? Octopus? Shark? Squid? Anyway, it's shredded, mixed with grated onions, half a dozen spices and olive biscuits—and must be nibbled, or it tastes bitter. A proper epicure pops it right to the center of the tongue. Sylvia Sidney convulses her audience when she gamely tries to pop a knichi, and chokes desperately from having popped it back too far.

Miss Sidney's own recipes require no such elaborate ceremony of serving or consuming. In fact, simplicity is the keynote—especially of the soup she calls "Zimble Zup," which she says is very refreshing in hot

The Mature Parent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our 17-year-old boy is so infatuated with a girl who lives in the next town to ours that we are quite worried. They do not get along, but after one of their fights, he is so upset he can't stay clear of her. They make up, and it's on again, hotter than ever. These ups and downs are the problem as they keep him so keyed up he can't concentrate on his schoolwork. He takes too much criticism from her. Even in front of us she can't help needing him.

ANSWER: It doesn't sound as though he liked her very much.

However, if he sees himself as the hero of deathless romance, he can't know that. Do you suppose he does so see himself? If so, his fights with this girl can't represent rage at her but have to represent struggle against the kind of fatal passion which enthralled Romeo and Juliet.

It's very hard for any of us to know we hate someone who misuses us if we need them to play our fellow star in a big deal love drama. In our fights with Juliet (or Romeo) we may get a glimpse of our fury at the partner's refusal of the properly adoring performance, but it's almost immediately lost to our need to glorify our own capacity for grand passion.

I went through this kind of craziness once with my own adolescent daughter.

There were the same ups and downs with the boy she had cast as Romeo. Finally, to punish her for something or other, he didn't call her for five days. The house shook with misery. She didn't eat. She whimpered if you asked her to hang up her coat. On the sixth day, led to the teeth with fatal passion, I said: "O.K., O.K. Listen to me. Suppose the phone rings? Suppose it's Fred. How will you feel? Will you be truly glad to hear his voice? Will the sound of it give you joy? Or will you want to yell at him. 'This is it, you creep? You've hurt me just once too often!'"

She stared at me. Then, rushing to the phone she called her best female friend to whom she cried, "Oh, Fluffy, I'm all over Fred! I don't even like him any more! Oh, Fluffy, I am so happy! Come on over and let's go to that Italian movie we were talking about..."

Of course I can't guarantee that your self-infatuated child will so respond to our declaration of his hate of this Juliet who won't play up. I can't even suggest that you expose this hate to him. That's because that we hate people who consistently hurt us. I could do with I did because I AM sure of it. (All rights reserved, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Holiday Dinner And Dance Planned; Medical Auxiliary

A Christmas dinner-dance is being planned for Saturday, Dec. 3 at Williams Lake Hotel, Rosendale, by the Ulster County Medical Auxiliary. Cocktails will be at 6 p. m. and dinner will be served at 7:30.

Highlight of the evening will be the honoring of past presidents of the Auxiliary. They include the following:

Mrs. Frederic Holcomb Sr., Mrs. Arthur Hazenbush, Mrs. Vincent Amatrano, Mrs. Ted Smalden, Mrs. Arthur Freedman, Mrs. John Alley, Mrs. Henry Elchelman and Mrs. Harry McNamara.

Convention Called For Square Dancing In New England Area

More than 5,000 square dancers, callers and round dancers will move into Pittsfield, Mass., "en masse" on April 28, 1967 to participate in one of the largest square dance conventions in the East Coast and the largest ever held in the New England area. They will come from all points in New England and Eastern New York State.

"To make new friends and re-new old acquaintances" is the cry of all attending because square-dancing is one of the friendliest activities in which couples can participate.

EDSARDA (Eastern District Square Dance Association) and NECCA (New England Council of Callers Association) are co-sponsors. Over 160 square and round dance clubs of New England are members of EDSARDA and over 400 callers and round dance leaders are members of NECCA. Don Scott, Andover, Mass., is president of EDSARDA. Red Bates, Hampden, Mass., is chairman of NECCA.

Dancers will participate in panel discussions, fashion show and luncheon after-parties as part of the program. A special hall will be available for round dance and for teen square dancers. Dances will be held in the Pittsfield Boys' Club, CYO, YMCA, Girls Club, North & South Jr. High Schools and St. Joseph's High School. Other halls are available if necessary. The Berkshire Hills Conference has promised accommodations for more than 4,000 dancers.

Reception Held For Youth Aliyah

On Monday, Nov. 21, the monthly membership meeting of the local Hadassah was held at Temple Emanuel. This was the annual Youth Aliyah Reception, which was chaired by the Mmes. Eva Feldman and Sadie Lutzin.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Arthur Landesman, president. The invocation was given by Sadie Lutzin.

Mrs. Harry Feldman received a Hadassah award for her continuing efforts each year on the Youth Aliyah Drive. Mrs. Nathaniel Gross, who is recipient of a like award, received the thanks of the Chapter for her work on the behalf of Youth Aliyah. Sadie Lutzin then explained the meaning of these monies to the children of Israel. She noted that in the past and present 100,000 children from 80 different countries have been welcomed in Israel where they have been provided with homes, clothing and food. Six dollars will clothe, feed a child for one year. She stated also that UNESCO contributes to Youth Aliyah. As the Youth Aliyah Chairman, she introduced the entertainer for the evening: Jerry Hartnett and his Puppets, a man who has traveled throughout Europe as well as the United States.

Refreshments were served by the Mmes. Morris Berman, Maurice Crystal, Isidor Werbalowsky, Benjamin Susskind, Louis Ellenbogen and Nathaniel Gross. Mrs. Joseph Honig and Harry Feldman poured.

Those members who have not yet responded to the Youth Aliyah Drive are urged to send their checks to Mrs. Harry Feldman.

Concordia Teachers College Honors Local Student Here

Todd Luedtke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Luedtke of Kingston, was honored as a recipient of the Atlantic District President's Scholarship at the 18th Annual Honors Convocation recently at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill.

Mr. Luedtke was one of 75 Concordia students to benefit from awards totaling $30,600 donated by various groups and agencies for the furthering of higher education. In addition, 130 other Concordians received scholarships awarded by the scholarship committee.

Dr. Erhardt H. Essig, professor of English at Concordia Senior College, Fort Wayne, Indiana, was speaker and challenged the assembly with the topic, "The Mind Vindicated."

Dean of Students Kenneth R. Schueler, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, publicly congratulated the students on their achievements.

Immediately following the convocation the recipients and present donors were honored at a special luncheon.

Mr. Luedtke, a junior at Concordia, will teach in an elementary or high school of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod upon graduation.

Noted Radio City Organist to Be Guest Accompanist at Hymn Sing Here on Sunday

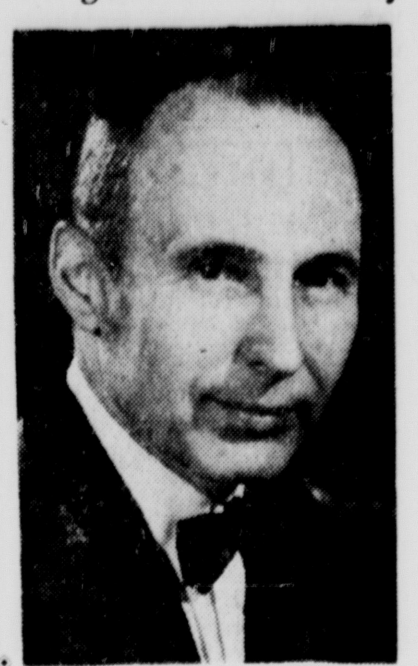

Noted Radio City Music Hall organist, Ashley Miller, will be organ accompanist at an old fashioned community hymn sing Sunday 7:30 p. m. at First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf Street and Tremper Avenue.

Bill McVey, the Christian Herald Singer and son of the pastor, the Rev. William J. McVey, will lead congregational singing and present solo selections. The public may attend.

Organist at the music hall for seven years, Mr. Miller has gained accolades for his talent from the realm of church and concert organ to the commercial field of theatre, radio, television and supper club. He holds the associate degree in the American Guild of Organists and a bachelor of science degree from Juilliard School of Music.

His works include Emblem of Liberty march and Rhapsody for Strings. In addition to his own TV show he has appeared on the Dave Garaway show and was organist and assistant conductor for Jose Melis on the Jack Paar show.

Mr. Miller has appeared with

Famous Names Are Included in New British Cookbook

LONDON (AP) — Users of a new British cook book will be able to telephone some of Britain's most famous women for help in following their favorite recipes.

The volume, Lady Maclean's Cook Book, contains the favorite recipes of some of Britain's leading hostesses and it includes the private telephone numbers of many contributors — a fact which rather staggered some of them.

A woman telephoned Sir Winston Churchill's daughter Mary — Mrs. Christopher Soames — Sunday to borrow the fact that her baked bananas creole were, she thought, browner than they should be.

Mrs. Soames replied: "Are you sure you remembered the lemon juice? That's most important. And it is so simple."

Mrs. Soames was stunned when she realized that her caller might be the first of hundreds whose baked bananas creole hadn't come up to expectations.

But bravely, facing the future, she promised: "I'd rather not one phoned — but, if they do, I would try to help."

Name New Members To Nursery School Board of Directors

At a recent Parents' meeting at the Fair Street Nursery School, four new members, representing each of the four nursery school classes, were selected to sit on the Board of Directors for the current school year. The new members are Robert Mohr of 9 Wayside Drive, Hurley, and Mrs. James Barbosa of 60 Lindsley Avenue, Kingston for Mrs. Benjamin Emerick's morning and afternoon classes; John Lozier of 13 Arnold Drive, Maverick Park, Woodstock, and Mrs. Stanley Davidson, Witter, for Mrs. Lincoln Christensen's morning and afternoon groups.

Mrs. Frieda Dingee, president of the Board of Directors, presided at the meeting. The program for the evening consisted of two workshops—one in Creative Art conducted by Mrs. Emerick, director and one of the teachers at Fair Street Nursery School; the other in block building and music, was conducted by Mrs. Christensen, who also teaches at the school. The workshops were offered twice, making it possible for all parents to participate in both.

In each workshop, creative materials or activities were provided and presented, and parents, by putting themselves "in the children's shoes," encountering and solving some of the problems the children are faced with, experienced more dramatically the learning processes involved in "child's play." Refreshments were served after the workshop period.

Mrs. Homemaker

If you are lucky, a proud hunter may present you with a deer this hunting season. As a guide for preparing the meat, become acquainted with various cuts you may be given, says Phyllis Barlow, Extension Home Economist.

Head and fore Shank—Use for soup, stew, in ground meat sausage, or deerburgers.

Round—Venison round steaks must be braised unless they are from a young animal, in which case they may be broiled. The lower part of the round is suitable for a pot roast. When the leg is small, it may be oven-roasted all in one piece like a leg of lamb.

Loin or "saddle"—This is the choicest part of the animal. The meat is tender and may be broiled or oven-roasted. In young animals this cut yields a small number of servings.

Shoulder or chuck—The top of the shoulder makes a good pot roast. The arm makes a good cut for mince meat or ground meat. This cut would be suitable for canning.

Rump—This is used for pot roast. If from a tender young animal, it makes a very good roast. It may also be canned.

Neck, flank, and breast—The flank and breast contain an appreciable amount of meat. They are most palatable when ground and used for sausage, meat loaf, and deerburgers, or cubed and used for soup or stew. The neck is tender after the tendons have been removed. It may be made into pot roast, stew, mince meat, or ground meat.

Venison, in general has a distinct flavor not compatible with any other meat. This flavor can be varied, however, by:

1. Soaking. The distinct game flavor will be milder after soaking in a salt or vinegar solution. Before cooking, allow the game to soak over night in the refrigerator in either of the following solutions: a. Salt — 1 tablespoon added to 1 quart cold water. b. Vinegar — 1 cup added to 1 quart cold water. Use enough solution to cover the game completely. Discard the water after soaking. Barbecue sauces or marinades may be used for soaking.

2. Substituting venison for meat in other recipes. Because the principles of meat cookery apply to game cookery, game may be successfully substituted for beef, veal, or pork in such recipes as Sauerbraten, Swiss steak and meat loaf.

Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary

Mrs. Charles Turck, president, will preside at a meeting and annual Christmas tea of the Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary in the auditorium of the Nurses Residence on Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 2 p. m.

Mrs. John Cooke is chairman of arrangements for the tea which will follow the business meeting. The nominating committee, Mrs. Paul Hoveman, Mrs. Joseph Conrad, Mrs. Allen Baker and Mrs. John Larkin will present the slate of officers for the coming year. A complete report for the year will be made by the Auxiliary treasurer, Mrs. Edward Coppard. Consideration will be given to another payment on the auxiliary's pledge to the hospital building fund. Volunteer service chairman will announce the hours of service performed by the Auxiliary in 1966.

In the evening at 7:30 in the Nurses residence, the hospital and auxiliary will honor the Junior Volunteer Program. Awards will be given for individual achievement.

All members and prospective new members are invited to attend the activities of the day.

Award Paul Buytkins Scholarship to Rider

Paul (Boots) Buytkins, Saugerties, the "athlete-of-the-year" at Ulster County Community College for the last two years, has won a baseball-basketball scholarship to Rider College in New Jersey beginning in January.

Rider consistently has had one of the best collegiate baseball teams in the country and during spring vacation every year the Rider baseball team goes to Florida for spring training.

Buytkins was the leading scorer on the UCCC basketball team the last two seasons, and in those two years scored more than 900 points to set an all-time scoring record. Last year Buytkins was the team's co-captain and received honorable mention on the Region 15 All-Star basketball team.

Batted .559

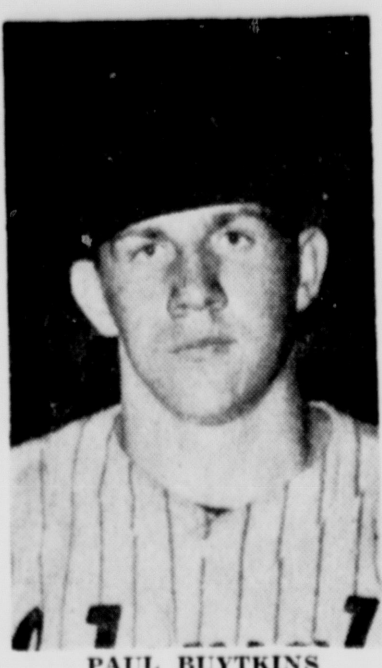

In baseball, Buytkins starred as a shortstop for Ulster County Community College. The team's leading batter, he hit .559 last spring to top all players in Region 15. He also was the leader for the Senator, in runs batted in and runs scored.

Last summer, Buytkins played in the Kentucky-Indiana Collegiate Baseball League and also played locally with the Kingston Braves.

After graduating from Rider, Buytkins is interested in a career in professional baseball. Later he is hopeful of a career in coaching and business teaching.

At UCCC, Buytkins has been enrolled in a Business Administration program.

A resident of 4 Cross Street, Saugerties, Buytkins formerly was a star athlete at Saugerties High School and was a quarterback for four years on the famous Saugerties football team that won 32 games in a row. His last two years on the team, he was named All-DCSL quarterback. Buytkins also was named to the All-DCSL basketball team while at Saugerties High and in addition starred on the school's basketball team.

He is the son of Mr. Stanley Buytkins, Saugerties. His father is the owner-operator of a Saugerties laundromat.

Polls Justified Strategy Says Ara

DETROIT (AP) — Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian said his team was trying for the national championship and points to the latest Associated Press poll as proof that he used the right strategy in the final minutes of the Michigan State game.

Notre Dame was ranked No. 1 nationally and MSU No. 2 going into the game Nov. 19. With the score tied 10-10 Notre Dame ran out the clock rather than go for the long pass.

"Notre Dame plays in no conference," Parseghian told a football dinner audience here Wednesday night. "We play no postseason games. The national polls mean everything to us, and those who vote in the polls put a premium on being undefeated."

High Woods Sportsmen's Club meets 8 o'clock tonight at the clubhouse. Reports will be heard on the annual Christmas party for children Sunday 3:30 p. m. at the clubhouse. Also plans will be outlined for a New Year Eve's party at the clubhouse. The Women's Auxiliary meets Wednesday, Dec. 7 at 8 p. m. in the clubhouse.

Boating Class At Dwyer Basin

C. F. Campbell, chief of the Education and Safety Section of the New York State Division of Motor Boats, will conduct a special class tonight at 8 o'clock at Dwyer's Boat Basin in Kingston.

Harvey B. Short, Commander of U. S. Coast Guard Flotilla 10-12, Kingston, sponsors of the class, says it will be open to any person interested in obtaining an instructors certificate from the New York State Department of Conservation.

San Diego State Is Rated Best Small School 11

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
San Diego State, with a perfect record in 10 games, is the 1966 small-college football champion. The Aztecs, unranked a year ago when they had an 8-2 record, were overwhelming choices in this season's final Associated Press poll today.

San Diego State received 14 first-place votes from among the 16 selectors on the national panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Tennessee State, the runner-up in the balloting, had the other two votes for the top position.

The voters who placed Tennessee State in the No. 1 spot made San Diego State No. 2. Thus, the Aztecs collected 158 points. Tennessee State accumulated 126 on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

Montana State finished in third place. Northwestern State of Louisiana is fourth followed by Parsons, Arkansas State, Muskogum, North Dakota, North Dakota State, Waynesburg and Weber State, the latter two teams in a 10th place tie.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, regular season records and total points:

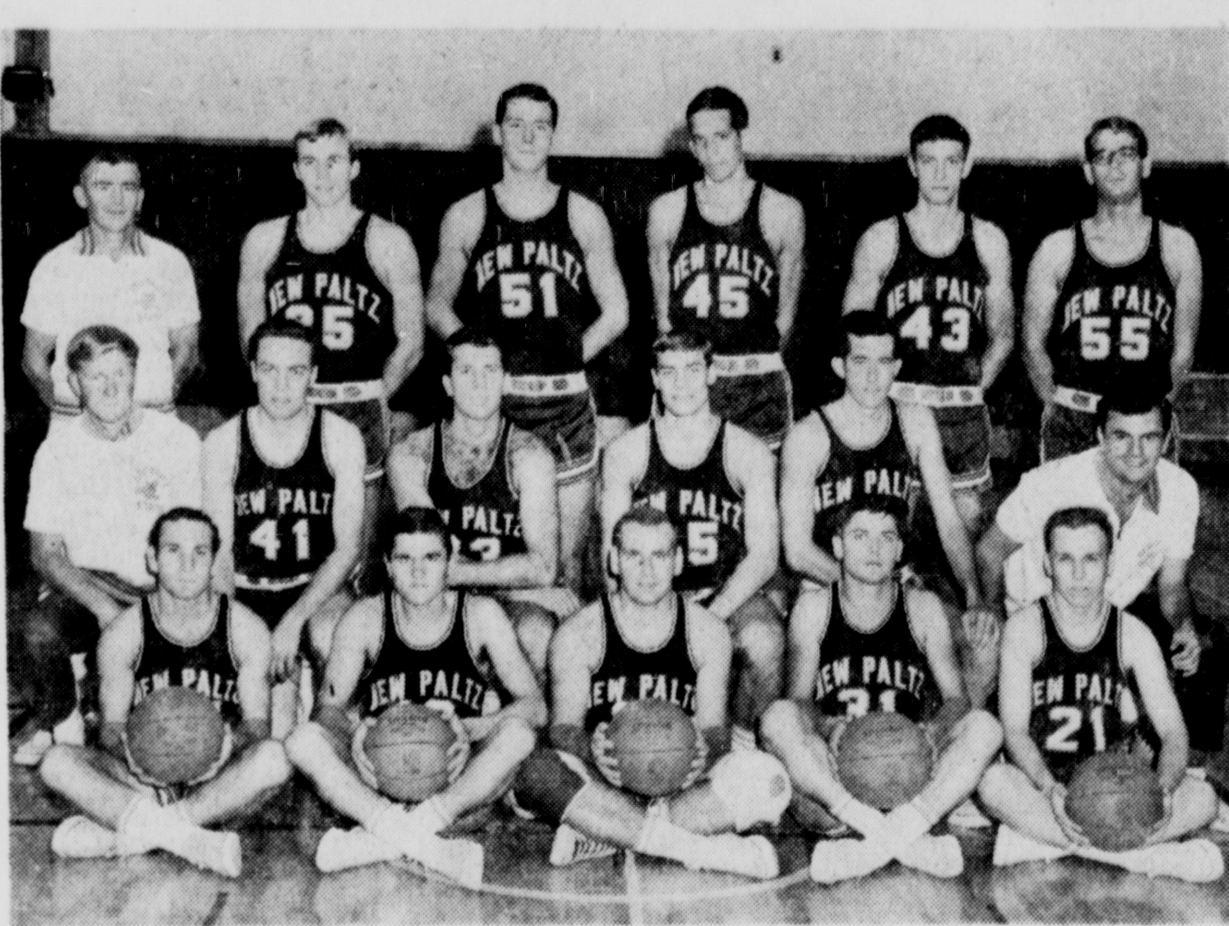

1. San Diego St. (14) 158
2. Tennessee St. (2) 126
3. Montana St. 113
4. Northwestern, La. St. 72
5. Parsons 70
6. Arkansas St. 43
7. Muskogum 41
8. North Dakota 39
9. North Dakota St. 32
10. (Tie) Waynesburg 31
11. Weber State 31

Second Shutout For Giacomini

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ed Giacomini and Reg Fleming — Mr. Zero and Mr. Zap in New York's National Hockey League resurgence — have done it again.

Goalie Giacomini turned in his second successive shutout and left-winger Fleming uncorked his second straight two-goal burst Wednesday night as the Rangers whipped Chicago 5-0, extending their winning streak to four games and climbing within a single point of the league-leading Black Hawks.

The Toronto Maple Leafs also shot within one point of first place, edging Montreal 3-2 on rookie Brian Conacher's third-period goal in the only other NHL game.

SIDELINE VIEWS

By ED PALLADINO

Monty Stickle's paid a surprise visit to his parents' home in Poughkeepsie last weekend. The former Poughkeepsie High School and Notre Dame star had Sunday off as his San Francisco 49ers teammates played on Thanksgiving Day in Detroit.

The 49ers, who are shooting for the runnerup bowl, play this Sunday in Green Bay and hope to knock the Packers off for the second time this season.

On Grid Show

Stickle's, who plays tight end for the 49ers, will be shown in action highlights of games this season on the CBS television program, "Countdown to Kickoff," Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The 225-pound Stickle is regarded as one of the most aggressive players in the National Football League and his blocking has been rated by many observers as outstanding.

In 11 games this season, Stickle has caught 24 passes for 285 yards, including a pair of touchdowns. However, with the likes of Dave Parks and Bernie Casey, Monty is counted on to protect quarterback John Brodie. As the records show, he does his job well.

Individual Heroics

We cannot recall two individuals dominating the Thanksgiving Day football contests more than did Wayne Youngs of Newburgh and Bruce Berthoff of Middletown. They were simply fantastic.

Youngs, one of the gifted and poised quarterbacks we have ever had the pleasure of watching, was the entire show as Newburgh toppled Kingston, 28-6. He completed 17 of 21 passes, was outstanding on defense and ran several times for good gains. Since he's only a junior, the DUSO League will have to put up with him for another year.

Berthoff demoralized Port Jervis by himself as the Middies routed the Raiders, 40-0. He tallied four times—twice on pass receptions and twice more after intercepting passes. This 250-pounder of a lad was also devastating with his blocking and did an excellent job on defense.

Some of This

The University of Connecticut basketball team will open its season tonight against American International and senior Wes Bialosuknia, former All-DCSL ace from Roosevelt will begin his quest for All-American honors. The 6-2 Bialosuknia has scored 1,010 points in two varsity seasons. . . . Mark Palinski of Rhinebeck is the co-captain of this year's Siena College quintet. He was a regular under coach Ed Donohue at Our Lady of Lourdes. . . . A former Kingston High player, Larry Marcus, will be in the starting lineup for Albany State tonight as the Red visit Central Connecticut for their opener. A 6-2 junior, Marcus averaged 11.8 points a game in 1965-66 and pulled down 188 rebounds.

A Little of That

Wesley Kissel, Jr. of Olive Bridge has been selected by Ithaca College freshman football coach John Shisler to receive numerals. Kissel played end. He's the son of Wes Kissel, varsity basketball coach at Ontario. . . . Ray Dodd marked his retirement as a football official following the Newburgh-Kingston game last Thursday. He completed 26 years of officiating and worked the last 10 Thanksgiving Day games between the KHS and NFA teams. . . . Roger Ohlson, former Kingston High football player, was a starting offensive tackle for the Carnegie Tech grid squad. He's only a freshman. . . . Dave Barton of Pine Plains was captain the 1966-67 Ithaca College varsity basketball team. His father is the athletic director and varsity cage coach at Pine Plains Central.

Davos Ski Area Slates Clinics

Davos Ski Area at Woodridge will host an Instructors Instructional Clinic the weekend of Dec. 10-11. Peter Martini of the host club will conduct the clinic for ski instructors of Rip Van Winkle Ski Council ski clubs.

Martini plans to demonstrate techniques on how to teach all levels of skiers. On Sunday (Dec. 11) will screen any junior racers who plan to attend the junior race camp scheduled Dec. 27-29 at Davos. The camp is open to all ages and classifications of skiers, the only stipulation being that junior Alpine racers must do a good parallel turn.

Other Events

A Nordic ski jumping clinic is scheduled Dec. 17-18 at Mt. Beacon. Frank Calmar, West Point Ski Club, and Richard Robinson, Mt. Beacon, will be in charge. All juniors interested in learning how to jump or improve their skills are invited.

Larry Gray of Trail Sweepers, chairman of the Alpine Ski Clinic, reports several club members plan to attend the alpine ski clinic at Davos, Dec. 18. The clinic is open for beginner to expert alpine skiers. All future ski clinics will be open for all classes (A-F).

Favor Spartans

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Michigan State's Spartans rated as favorites today at the opening of the national collegiate soccer championships in California's Memorial Stadium.

Michigan State faced Long Island University in one semifinal match while the University of San Francisco faced Army in the other.

The winners will battle Saturday afternoon for the title.

U.C.C. Bowlers On the Upswing

Ulster County Community College's bowling varsity is improving after a slow start, Coach Al D. Bernardo said today.

In its first six matches, the Senators won three, lost two and split one.

The squad defeated the Agriculture and Technical College at Farmingdale, 4-0, Rockland Community College, 4-0, and Manhattan Community College, 3-1. It split 2-2 with Queensboro Community College.

The Senators lost to Fashion Institute of Technology 3-1, and to Bronx Community College, 4-0. The top bowler has been Lou Kolano, who is averaging 189, while Adrian Anderson has been close behind with a 187 average.

Don Gregorius has been averaging 179. Andy Simmons has been hitting 178, and Mike Buckley's average is 173.

Hawks to Face Rugged Slate; Sands Is Out

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Faced with the most rugged in the school's history, coach Doug Sheppard will send his State University (New Paltz) cagers into action for the first time Friday against Plattsburgh. Game time at Elting Gymnasium is 8 o'clock.

To compound the problems of the Hawks, Ty Sands, the ex-Monticello hotshot who averaged 18.4 points a game last season, will not be available. He suffered a serious knee injury and has not recovered.

Returning from last year's squad are 6-5 Pete Brenner, 6-1 Sandy Cohen, 6-1 Art Corwin, 6-0 Ernie Maywalt, 5-9 Jack O'Donnell, 6-5 Ed Shuster and 6-0 Tom Kenney.

Opening Lineup

Starters for the opener figure to be Brenner, Cohen, O'Donnell, Josephs and Shuster. Brenner was a doubtful participant until several days ago. His height will be needed.

Included on the schedule are such powerhouses as C. W. Post, Central Connecticut, Philadelphia Textile, Adelphi and Quinnipiac. The Hawks will also compete in the Siena College Invitational tournament during Christmas week.

Sheppard guided New Paltz to a 10-11 record in 1965-66 and the veteran coach will be more than happy if this year's team can do equally as well.

Ulster C.C. Cagers Demonstrate at YMCA

Members of the Ulster County Community College basketball team gave a demonstration of skills and fundamentals to youth gym classes of the YMCA Wednesday night.

Dribbling and passing were emphasized and layups, the three-man weave and other tactics were also demonstrated.

The team also played a short scrimmage for the entertainment of the Y boys in what was described as a highly interesting and useful clinic.

After the Plattsburgh opener, the Hawks travel to C. W. Post on Saturday and to Marist College in Poughkeepsie next Tuesday.

Bob Durkin will again handle the frosh cagers.

New NFL Alignment

Assign New Orleans to East; Atlanta Falcons in the West

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—A long-range look at 1967 in the National Football League presents a strong possibility of a Cleveland-Dallas game for the Eastern Conference title and a Green Bay-San Francisco tilt for the Western Conference crown.

The two winners would meet for the NFL title with the survivor meeting the winner of the American Football League championship.

The NFL owners realigned the conferences Wednesday when they placed the new New Orleans franchise in the East and the Atlanta Falcons in the West. Each eight-club conference was split into two four-club divisions.

After much deliberation the owners came up with a grouping of Cleveland, Pittsburgh, New York and St. Louis in the Federal Division of the East. The Capital Division of the East will include Dallas, Philadel-phia, Washington and New Or-leans.

In 1968 New York will shift to the Capitol and New Orleans to the Federal in a compromise move designed to give all eight of the Eastern teams a chance to play the Giants home and home in one of the two years.

Packers In Central

The Green Bay Packers will be joined by the Chicago Bears, Minnesota Vikings and Detroit Lions in the Central Division of the Western Conference. San Francisco, Los Angeles, Balti-more and Atlanta will comprise the Coastal Division of the West. The Western Conference will remain intact in 1967 and 1968 in contrast to the 1968 shift of New York and New Orleans from one division to the other in the East.

No decision has been made on the 1969 alignment. The NFL and AFL are due to merge into one league 1970.

While the NFL owners worked on their own problems, the AFL owners met separately and dis-cussed the merger terms that were agreed upon last June.

It is expected that the joint committee recommendations on the date, site and financial ar-rangements for the Super Bowl game, the mechanics of the common draft and rule changes will be made to the leagues se-parately today.

The most likely date and site of the Super Bowl still is Sun-day, Jan. 15 at the Los Angeles Coliseum, pending agreement on television contracts.

Knicks Shatter Hex at Cincy On 119-115 Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson and Flynn Robinson did their best to pre-vent it, but the New York Knicks finally ended their Cin-cinnati jinx.

Not since November, 1962, had the Knicks won a National Basketball Association game in Cincinnati, but thanks to the clutch shooting of Walt Bella-my, they won one Wednesday night. They beat the Royals, 119-115.

Cincinnati came back from an 18-point deficit early in the fourth quarter to get within a point with 2:10 left in the game. Robertson and Robinson led the way, scoring 19 of the last 20 Royal points.

But then Bellamy, who fin-ished with a season high of 32 points, put in four quick points, sending the Knicks out of reach.

In other NBA games, Phila-delphia took Detroit, 128-119, and Los Angeles beat Balti-more, 126-111.

We want the spiked snow tire approved for Highway Patrol cars.

You don't need a badge to buy Winter Ride even though they're approved for highway patrol cars. (They're even being used on patrol cars as far north as Alaska.)

Why do the police (and you) need spiked snow tires? Let's look at the facts.

If you have regular tires on your rear wheels, you'll have very little traction on ice. And you'll find yourself skidding all over the place.

Put on snow tires and you'll improve the traction by 36%.

BUT, put on a set of Uniroyal Winter Ride with spikes and you'll find you've improved the traction by 136%. Which is enough to give you control on ice at a reasonable speed.

So unless you're planning to spend the winter in Miami, play it safe.

Come in to your Uniroyal dealer and pick up a set of Winter Ride with spikes.

See Conservative, Liberal Battle For Leader Post

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — What Sen. Everett M. Dirksen describes as a very interesting struggle is developing between Senate Republican liberals and conservatives over their next campaign chairman.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, took refuge in the statement that "nothing has been settled" when asked by a reporter about what now looks like a three-man race for the job held by Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky.

By custom Morton will step out of the Campaign Committee chairmanship in January because his Senate seat will be at stake in 1968.

In an atmosphere charged with presidential politics, Sens. George Murphy of California, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and John G. Tower of Texas are being advanced as prospective candidates.

The next chairman will be chosen by the conference of Republican senators, meeting after the 90th Congress convenes Jan. 10.

The campaign's primary job is to WASHINGTON (AP) — A national contractors' group, accusing construction unions of "excessive" wage demands, joined in speculation today that the new Congress may act to crack down on organized labor.

The development followed a White House confirmation that a presidential task force is studying ways to protect the national interest in major strikes.

And it added to organized labor's fears that the more conservative tone of the new Congress convening Jan. 10 may lead to demands for the first new strike legislation since the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act.

"Certainly the recent elections improve the prospects for securing passage for legislation to curb union irresponsibility," said the Associated General Contractors of America.

In Texas, White House spokesman George Christakis said the Justice, Labor and other federal departments have been studying the problem of strikes, but that no recommendations had been made to President Johnson.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said that White House staff force studies were in line with increasing concern over "the whole question had power and kept ramming the front part."

"She buckled and sank," Hale said.

No Distress Signal

Hale was reported in good condition at a hospital.

"The weird thing" about the 12,500-ton Morrell, said a Coast Guard spokesman, was "there was no distress signal."

Winds up to 60 miles an hour and waves 20 feet high lashed the Morrell.

Not since the freighter Carl D. Bradley sank Nov. 18, 1958, have so many crewmen of a freighter died on the Great Lakes. The Bradley lost 33 of its 35 crewmen when it plunged to the bottom of Lake Michigan during a similar storm. Like the Morrell, the Bradley was as low as two football fields.

The worst in a long history of Great Lakes tragedies was 53 years ago when 19 ships plunged to the bottom in a five-day November storm. An estimated 250 sailors died.

The last radio signal reported received from the Morrell was at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday when she transmitted a routine message giving her position as 25 miles north of Harbor Beach. The Morrell was bound north for Taconite Harbor, Minn., from Cleveland, Ohio, with only ballast in her holds.

Storm Grounded Another

The disaster occurred during the same storm that broke apart a grounded German vessel, the Nordmeer, about 80 miles north of the Morrell, and which grounded a ferry off the opposite shore of Michigan on Lake Michigan.

Eight crewmen were lifted to safety Tuesday night from the Nordmeer moments before the storm split the ship apart.

A breakwater protected the off Midland 41 from Lake Michigan waves. The vessel was

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged higher early this afternoon as it recovered on balance from an early decline. Trading was the most active of the week.

With gainers outnumbering losers at a ratio of about 5-to-4, the market was showing technical strength despite a generally drab background of business news, analysts said.

On the third day of the decline late Wednesday, the market began to cut its losses as it found support at about the same level which was the bottom of the decline on Nov. 22 and preceded two sessions of sharp advance.

The rise was far from unanimous however. Some of the higher priced, more volatile issues were up one or two points. Aerospace issues, electronics, steels, chemicals and building materials were generally higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3.29 1/2 with industrials up 1.6, rails off 5 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.39 at 792.98.

The list met support close to the 790 level in the Dow industrials just as it had on Nov. 22. The rise came despite a cutting some home appliance output by some major manufacturers, a lowering of auto sales projections for 1967 and a published prediction that the President may offer a $140 billion dollar budget next year—making a tax increase more likely.

Xerox gained 2 1/2 U.S. Smelting, High Voltage Engineering, RCA and Zenith a point each. Prices rose in active trading on the American stock exchange.

Expect Johnson To Tab Hungary, Bulgaria Envoys

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to name ambassadors to Hungary and to Bulgaria shortly, following up his announcement this week raising the American diplomatic missions there to the ambassadorial level.

There is no indication as yet who the new envoys will be. The expectation is that John M. Sweeney, a career diplomat and minister to Sofia, will be named ambassador to Bulgaria, but a new man will be appointed to Budapest.

Janos Radvanyi, the Hungarian charge d'affaires in Washington, and Luben Guerrassimov, the Bulgarian minister here, are likely to be elevated to the new ambassadorships for their respective countries.

In explaining the upgrading of the two diplomatic missions, U.S. officials caution against any speculation attaching undue importance to this step. It is, they say, in the U.S. interest to be represented in every country on the ambassadorial level.

When the State Department spokesman said, "We believe it is clearly in our interest to be represented at this level for effective and proper conduct of relations."

The key word, officials explain, is "interest." In other words the upgrading of the missions was not, as an official put it, "a reward for good behavior."

This long overdue step, the officials said, had to be taken irrespective of other problems, international or bilateral.

Going beyond the "interest" factor, officials readily acknowledge that the Monday announcement was a new manifestation of the President's determination not to let the Viet Nam conflict interfere with his aim to achieve "true reconciliation" with Communist Eastern Europe.

Seven similar conferences will be scheduled with elected officials and planners in cities, towns and villages in each of the seven counties.

In succeeding weeks and months, PEP's executive committee also plans to meet with leaders in such fields as education, conservation, business, labor and the professions.

C. David Loeks, president of PEP, said that initially, the organization had hoped to achieve this purpose by sponsoring a regional conference this fall, involving representatives from all interests.

"After examining the matter, however," he explained, "we decided to temporarily defer this approach in favor of smaller individual meetings, which would provide a closer, more intimate exchange of views and ideas."

PEP, which grew out of a 1964 regional conference at State University College at New Paltz, is a regional planning, research and development organization, charged with fostering a balanced plan for the economic, educational, cultural, historical and natural development of the seven counties in the Mid Hudson region.

Invited from Ulster County have been Charles Relyea, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors; Peter J. Savago, majority leader of the supervisors; Roger Mable, minority leader of the board; Benjamin L. Webster, chairman of the Ulster County Planning Board and Richard Ehler, planning director of the county planning board.

Ulster County residents who help to make up the executive committee of the PEP are: Herbert L. Shultz, Rodie Coal Co., Kingston and George E. Yerry Jr., a commissioner of the Workmens Compensation Board.

Ex-officio members include: Ian F. Sillin Jr., Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., William J. Haggerty, State University College, New Paltz and C. David Loeks, Mid-Hudson Pattern Progress Inc., State University College, New Paltz.

Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., and Maj. Gen. Sam Phillips, director of Project Apollo — saw the test from the central control tower at the Mississippi test facility.

Phillips told a news conference that all data from computers would have to be assessed before it would be known whether the test went perfectly.

He said the four-month delay did not mean the nation is behind schedule in the race to the moon, earlier schedules had called for the complete Saturn 5 to be launched during the first half of next year, he said, and now plans call for a test flight in the second quarter of 1967.

The firing test simulated the duties of the S-II, which will be to ignite after the first stage takes it to an altitude of about 40 miles. It will push the 47-ton Apollo moonship to 100 miles high at speed of over 4,800 miles an hour.

Another static firing will be made in 10 days. If that one is successful, the stage will be shipped to Cape Kennedy to take its place atop the even larger first stage.

The Saturn 5, when assembled, will be more than 300 feet tall.

Parmenter also elevated the following to the rank of Star Scout: Carl Mesick, Edward Stevenson, Stephen Olsen, Paul Fowler, Robert Kirkpatrick, William Nyulassy and Victor Nyulassy.

Committeeman Quick bestowed the rank of Life upon Mark Ohlson, Mitchell Small, Kevin Krajick and John Burger.

Each advancing scout presented his mother with a pin.

Troop Scribe John Benjamin announced that the "T-Bird" Patrol had achieved first place while competing with the other three patrols of the troop in an inter-patrol contest. "T-Birds" were given a prize of a reflector oven.

Service Conducted

A special service was conducted for John Augustine who advanced to Eagle, the highest rank in Boy Scouting. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Augustine, Lawrenceville Street, Kingston.

State Facing Frigid Weekend

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York State is in for a frigid weekend, the Weather Bureau said today.

By tonight, temperatures are expected to fall to the teens and lower throughout the Upstate area and to the 20s in the New York City area. Mountain readings of zero or lower were forecast for the weekend.

The bureau also predicted continuing snow squalls through Friday east and southeast of Lake Ontario but a lull in Western New York and around the Finger Lakes after three inches or more today.

Battle Resumes On Power Project

WASHINGTON, (AP) — A long and bitter battle between conservationists and Consolidated Edison Co. over a proposal to build a $184 million power plant on Storm King Mountain along the Hudson River in New York resumed Wednesday before a Federal Power Commission examiner.

The hearing before Ewing N. Simpson is expected to continue for several days and is a resumption of one held in New York City earlier in the month. In addition to opposing the power plant itself, a prime target of conservationists represented by the scenic Hudson River Conference, has been Con Ed's proposal to build overhead lines across Putnam and Westchester Counties.

Con Edison estimates the cost of burying the cables would be about 10 times greater than an overhead line and would be prohibitive. The studies by Shew largely substantiate the company's estimates.

Escape Injury

Passengers involved in an accident at Barclay Heights, Saugerties, about 8 p. m. Wednesday escaped injury although both cars were damaged. A car operated by James Francello of Box 227, Saugerties, was attempting to make a right turn when a car operated by Joan E. Strasser and owned by Rudolf Strasser of 12 Manor Lane, Saugerties, attempted to pass on the right, according to a report by County Investigator Thomas Mayone. The cars sideswiped.

During the impressive and elaborate ceremony a brief history of the youths scouting career was narrated. Letters of congratulations from his former Den Mother and from a former assistant scoutmaster, were read. Young Augustine serves as a den chief in Cub Pack 10. A group of cub scouts from Den 1 presented him with a set of eagle bookends.

Included in the many awards this scout received were an eagle cloth badge, a cloth eagle squareneck badge, a letter of congratulations from the chief scout executive, a tie tie and clip, and an eagle wall chart.

John presented his mother with a pin and necklace.

The final tribute was made by Scoutmaster Deyo, who placed the sterling silver Eagle Badge upon his left pocket and proclaimed him Eagle Scout number 10 of Troop 10.

Scout Mitchell Small presented a narrated colored slide presentation of his adventures and travels while attending Philmont Scout Reservation in New Mexico last summer.

The evening was concluded with refreshments served by two fathers Joseph Benjamin and William Nyulassy.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor & Analyst

Buildup of Holdings Depends on Objective

Q) "After the takeover of Consolidation Coal by Continental Oil, we received a liquidating dividend of cash plus the following shares of stock: 92 Chrysler, 26 Continental Oil, three Toledo Edison, two Am. Electric Power, two U. S. Steel, one Nat. Steel and one Ingersoll-Rand. What do you think of these and should we buy more to round them out?" — E. G.

A) Each stock you have received has merit, although for investment purposes they differ markedly. If your primary objective is growth, I would build up Continental Oil, Am. Electric Power and Toledo Edison. If you need income, I would hold Chrysler and build up the steel issues and Ingersoll-Rand. These stocks provide a well-secured return of about six per cent. But they are cyclical issues, sensitive to general business conditions and therefore likely to show wide price fluctuations. This characteristic should not disturb you as long as fundamentals remain sound in their respective companies and industries.

Q) "I would like your opinion on Peoples Gas, Light & Coke. I'm thinking of replacing this with some other stock." — C. E.

A) You now own what I regard as a good growth utility, currently yielding about five per cent on the recently increased dividend. Continued expansion is looked for in all segments of the company's operations as a distributor of natural gas in the city of Chicago and in communities north of the city. Industrial and domestic customers are increasing as service areas are extended and gas is more widely accepted for both heating and air conditioning. Earnings have more than doubled in a ten-year uptrend and dividends have increased steadily.

In general, however, gas distributors have tended to lag in price compared with fast growing electrical utilities. If you wish good income with moderate growth I would continue to hold Peoples Gas. If price appreciation is your goal, you might do better in lower-yielding Southern Company, supplying electricity in the heart of the South.

Classroom Strike Voted by Students At California U

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — University of California students at a mass meeting today called a classroom strike because police had been summoned during a sit-in protesting Navy recruiting on the campus.

Some 3,500 of the Berkeley campus' 30,000 students attended the meeting and voted overwhelmingly by a show of hands to strike classes starting at 8 a.m.

Led '64 Drive

The last speaker to urge the strike was Mario Savio, who led the 1964 Free Speech Movement which disrupted classes as students sought greater on-campus political liberty.

Turned down last month when he applied for readmission, Savio was one of six nonstudents arrested by police when they protested the presence of Navy recruiters in the Student Union. He was free in $400 bail when he made his talk.

The mass meeting was organized by the Council of Campus Organizations, one of the FSM's successors and came after the Associated Students of the University of California had voted 9-8 condemning the administration's use of police and demanding amnesty for the nonstudents and students arrested. The ASUC is the official student government organization.

Cites Nonstudents

Earl F. Cheit, executive vice chancellor who signed the arrest warrants Wednesday, said he would not allow nonstudents to disrupt the university's activities. He was acting for Chancellor Roger Heyns, who was out of the state.

Trouble started when a group of students and nonstudents demanded the removal of a Navy recruiting table in the Student Union. Some 400 persons refused to leave after two Navy men and a Marine had gone.

Students declared that off-campus organizations are not permitted by regulations to man tables on the campus. The university administration said government organizations were exempted from that rule.

Motzkin, Carvell Named to Posts By Oil Council

Floyd Schneider, Monroe, N. Y., was re-elected president of the Hudson Valley Oil Heat Council for the 1966-67 year at the Council's general membership meeting Tuesday night at the Pine Tree Inn, Newburgh. Schneider is president of Carpenter & Smith, a fuel oil dealer in Monroe.

Named as the Council's Vice Presidents were Arthur Motzkin of Kingston, N. Y. (the incumbent) and James Efron, of Poughkeepsie. They are presidents, respectively, of Kingston Oil Supply, Kingston, and Efron Fuel Oil Co., Poughkeepsie. Louis Abbott of Abbot & Mills, Newburgh, was re-elected secretary and William Carvell of R. K. Ballard Co. of Kingston, as Treasurer, to succeed Amos Newcombe of Kingston.

In addition to the above officers, the following were elected as directors: Jerry Affron, Affron Oil Co., Newburgh; Donald Fischbeck, Wallace Oil Co., Middletown; Richard Van Etten, Van Etten Oil Co., Monticello; George C. Birmingham, Birmingham Oil Co., Liberty, N. Y., and William Janson, Bacu Fuel Oil Corp., Poughkeepsie.

The Hudson Valley Oil Heat Council was formed in 1965, the consolidation of five sectional organizations representing Dutchess, Ulster, Sullivan and Orange counties. Its offices are in Newburgh. Appointed as its executive director last September was Fred T. Colwell, La Grangeville, successor to Fred Burroughs, Sparta, N. J., who served as its executive director since the Council was organized in November of 1965.

FIRE FIGHTERS IN CHEST SHOW—Members of the Kingston Uniformed Fire Fighters Association, Local 461, AFL-CIO, rehearse their numbers for the Ulster County Community Chest radio-telethon Saturday, Dec. 3. Among those participating will be (l-r) Robert Millham, electric guitar; William Hoornbeck, tenor; Gerard Kelder, chorus; Captain Robert Hardwick, piano; John W. Hammersley, chorus and Edward Cogswell, electric guitar. The firefighters will be on the air and also over Cablevision Channel 10 from 8:15 to 9 p. m. Saturday. Their program will begin with a piano solo "More" played by Miss Kathi Greer. The Superiors, the Misses Elvina Branden and Dolores Hodges will follow with "You Can't Hurry Love." The Rogues also will appear for the paid fire fighters. Lt. Hugh Greer, secretary of Local 461, will serve as master of ceremonies for that portion of the show. Lt. Greer has urged listeners and viewers to pledge their contributions to the Chest in the name of the association any time during the 16-hour program. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr.)

Ground Rules Are Given for Chest Pledges Saturday

"I'd like to make a pledge during the program but I'm not sure how to go about it."

Will you be asking yourself this question Saturday, Dec. 3, as you and your family listen to or watch the Ulster County Radio/Videothon?, a Community Chest official asks.

The ground rules for the day-long event are simple and easy to follow.

Pledges may be made during the Radio/Videothon by calling any of the following numbers: Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, 331-4320; Kingston Savings Bank, 338-6800; Ulster County Savings Bank, 338-6060; First Federal Savings and Loan Association, 331-0254 and the State of New York National Bank, 338-6500.

Many to Man Phones

The five numbers listed above will make available 20 separate telephones at the same time.

If the number dialed happens to be busy, calls will be automatically re-routed to another telephone at the same location. Callers will not receive a busy signal unless all the telephones "tied in" to that number are in use. If all the telephones at a particular location are busy, callers may dial any one of the remaining four numbers.

In addition to the many organizations providing entertainment for the Radio/Videothon, the following have volunteered their services to man telephones and receive pledges on Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to midnight.

To date, these organizations are the National Secretaries Association (International), Kingston Children's Home, Association for Retarded Children, Kingston Hospital Auxiliary, Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary, United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc., Jewish Community Center, Kingston IBM Club, Kingston Boys Club and Kingston League of Women Voters.

Others include the Ulster County Republican Women's Club, Ulster County Democratic Women's Club; Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross; Young Women's Christian Association, Young Men's Christian Association, Ulster County Association for Mental Health, Inc.; Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc.; Boys Scouts of America, Rip Van Winkle Council, Salvation Army, Ulster County Realtors, Pioneer Club, New York Telephone Company; Gateway Industries, Inc. Rehabilitation

tion Training Center; Savings and Loan Association of Kingston; Temple Emanuel Sisterhood; The Saugerties League of Women Voters; and Zephaniah Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women.

Not Limited to Cash

Participation in the Radio/Videothon is not limited to cash contributions.

As has been the policy and practice of the Ulster County Community Chest, any pledge totaling $12 or more may be billed and paid either on an annual, semi-annual, quarterly or monthly basis. Any pledge of less than $12 may be billed and paid on a semi-annual basis. This will involve only two billings.

According to John F. Schuehler, chairman of the Radio/Videothon all checks should be made payable to the Ulster County Community Chest.

The Community Chest office is housed in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Its mailing address is 15 Albany Avenue, Kingston, 12401.

A complete program listing and further details concerning the Ulster County Radio/Videothon, will be published Friday, Dec. 2 in the Kingston Daily Freeman.

2 Trustees Escape From Great Meadow

COMSTOCK, N. Y. (AP)—Two prisoners at the Great Meadow Correctional Institution have escaped from a prison farm today and fled into woods near this community 10 miles from the New York-Vermont state line.

They were Fred Castelhun, 23, and Emilion Quinones Jr., both trustees and both from Brooklyn.

Castelhun was a parole violator originally sentenced for driving while intoxicated. His automobile struck and killed a man. Quinones was sentenced as a youthful offender.

Leaflet Offers Medicare Data, Available Here

A special leaflet with information about medicare benefits for older people who need continued full-time skilled nursing care following hospitalization, is now available at the Kingston social security district office, George J. Habernig, District Manager, announced today.

These "extended care" benefits will become payable beginning Jan. 1, 1967. Habernig said, for services furnished in skilled nursing homes or other institutions that have met medicare quality standards.

Lists Provisions

A person 65 or over who is already in an institution that qualifies as an "extended care facility" under the medicare program, will start to have his bills paid beginning Jan. 1, 1967, if:

He has had a hospital stay or at least 3 days, ending July 1, 1966, or later; he entered the extended care facility within 14 days of his hospital discharge; and he is still in need of continuing skilled nursing care.

Under the hospital insurance part of medicare, payment can be made up to 100 days of extended care, starting Jan. 1, with medicare paying the full cost of the first 20 days and all but $5 a day for the remaining 80 days.

The extended care benefit is not a general nursing home benefit, Habernig pointed out, and will not pay for stays that are primarily custodial or residential. The benefit is payable for convalescent care for recently hospitalized elderly people who still need skilled nursing care round the clock for the condition that required their hospitalization.

Differs for Some

For many, it will pay for care until they recover to the point that they can be cared for at home. For some, who will have a long-term continuing need for skilled nursing, it will cover costs for the first part of their care.

D & H Dividend

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Delaware & Hudson Co., which owns the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, announced today an extra dividend of 50 cents a share this year to stockholders of record as of Dec. 12.

The company also increased its quarterly dividend from 35 to 40 cents. The year's total thus will be $1.35, compared with $1.25 in each of the four previous years.

Because of the special nature of the extended care benefit under medicare, and its relatively short duration, medicare is not expected to be financing more than about 20 to 25 per cent of the care furnished in all types of skilled nursing homes in the country. A much larger percentage of nursing home care, perhaps more than half, will continue to be paid for under public welfare programs.

Copies of the new leaflet, with more detailed information as to what extended care services are covered by medicare, how the benefits are paid, and under what conditions, are available free at all social security district offices.
